Upper House Upholds Conference in Imposing Tax on Electrical Power HOWELL OPENS FIGHT

President Expected to Attach Signature as Soon as it is Given to Him

WASHINGTON, June 6. (UP)—In the face of renewed presidential opposition, the House rules committee decided today to bring the Garner $2,300,000 relief bill under drastic procedure which would assure a vote in three hours.

President Hoover returned to the White House from a week-end spent with his financial advisers at his Rapidan fishing camp to direct the legislative drive toward his own relief program. The administration plan is to avoid the bond proposals contained in the Democratic proposals.

One phase of the president's program, that relating to establishment of 12 home loan discount banks, was revived in the senate, where a sub-committee was directed to prepare a report on the Watson bill to that end.

Passage of the Garner bill was predicted, since Democrats have bound themselves in party caucus, with only a few dissenters, to support it. Also, the rule which the committee will seek to have approved limits debate to three hours and confines it to amendments offered by the ways and means committee.

The vote of the rules committee was 8 to 4, along party lines.

Rep. Bankhead, Democrat (Alabama), in offering the stringent rule to the committee, admitted it was "probably the most drastic in a long time."

None of the ways and means committee amendments which would be offered would be subject to further amendments.

Rep. Michener, Republican, of Michigan, said before the vote was

OUT OF A MAZE of conflicting opinions given by numerous state legislators who attended a joint meeting of the Economic Council of Southern California, the Joint Legislative Water committee, and state senators and assemblymen which was held in the Elks' clubhouse at Anaheim Saturday afternoon, came the unanimous opinion that California should amend its water conservation and distribution program.

No action was taken on a proposal to recommend calling a special session of the legislature.

Announced as a meeting to consider the report of the California Joint Legislative Water committee and the recommended state constitutional amendment to serve as an enabling act to provide legal machinery for allowing state credit to special water districts which would be formed on the basis of the proposed legislation, no official stand was taken on this measure by the group as an Economic Council or as a committee.

The Economic Council, however, had previously adopted a resolution favoring the calling of a special session of the legislature for the purpose of considering the water report and to start some action on a state water conservation program which has been considered by the legislature for the past 10 years without any action.

The majority of the five senators and 10 assemblymen who were present, personally expressed the opinion that if a special session was called, they would attend and do all in their power to further any water program that would meet with the approval of the legislature. A motion was made by an assemblyman asking that the meeting go on record as favoring a special session of the state legislature to consider the report of the legislative committee. Considered.

Nomination of Hoover and Curtis Assured; Issues May Bring Battling

WASHINGTON, June 6. (UP)—Ticklish problems confronting the Republican National convention at Chicago will be handled by practically a complete change of cast from that which conducted in 1928 convention.

Relatively new figures have been selected to steer the proceedings through the party's first real fight over prohibition in years. The depression also has raised new problems.

The expected renomination of President Hoover and Vice President Curtis only leaves the delegates more time to become excited over issues.

Among the persons who will be assembling at Chicago a week from today will be these ranking members of the cast:

Senator L. J. Dickinson, Iowa, the probable temporary chairman and chairman. Long leaves the house rules committee, he was one of the famous triumvirate which under the late Speaker Nicholas Longworth ran the house with an iron hand.

Joseph L. Scott, Los Angeles attorney who will place President Hoover in nomination, he did some campaign speaking for Mr. Hoover four years ago. It will be his job to present a glowing picture of Hoover the man, and the statesman, especially for the benefit of the millions of voters who will be following the proceedings.

Charles L. Scott of Kansas will nominate Vice President Curtis. He has been a newspaper editor for years, formerly was a member of congress and is now attached to headquarters of the Republican national committee here. He is a veteran in Kansas and national politics, but has not appeared in a

EUREKA, Calif., June 6. (UP)—Rocking the northern California coastline almost as severely as the 1906 tremors which terrorized sections of the far west state, four distinct earthquake shocks caused widespread minor damage early today.

One death and two serious injuries resulted in Eureka.

Early reports indicated some buildings had collapsed but a later check showed that although windows had been shattered and chimneys had crumpled, no buildings were damaged seriously.

The quake appeared to have centered along the coastline in Humboldt and Del Norte counties, but it was felt over an area 250 miles long and as far inland as Roseburg, Ore.

Mrs. Wallace McCutcheon, 25, was killed when a chimney crashed through the wall of the rooming house in which she was sleeping. Her husband incurred a broken leg and several crushed ribs. Ralph Young, the only other person reported injured, received two broken ribs when he was thrown against a machine in a bakery.

Communication lines were not affected seriously and reports from Crescent City, about 85 miles north of Eureka, Ferndale, Fortuna, Arcata, Fieldbrook and other small towns in Eureka county showed the tremors were felt in equal proportion there.

Plate glass windows in store buildings and smaller windows in residences were shattered. Brick chimneys suffered more than other sections of houses.

No fires resulted.

A few small landslides were reported, one of them blocked the highway two miles south of Eureka when the slide of a cutbank slid onto the road.

Property damage was estimated in the thousands of dollars.

The quake began at 12:45 a. m., at a time when most people in the towns affected were asleep and sheltered from possible flying debris.

The region in which the tremors struck is sparsely settled, only a few towns being scattered over the forest and ranch land. Eureka, the largest of the far northern California coast cities, has a population of 12,500. It is approximately 300 miles north of San Francisco.

HOUSE TO VOTE ON BONUS BILL NEXT MONDAY

Two Thousand Veterans Encamped in Washington and 4000 on March

WASHINGTON, June 6. (UP)—Bugle calls routed the 2500 members of the grim and tattooed "bonus expeditionary force" from their camps today for a "big push" on congress.

With a vote assured in the House next Monday on the Patman bill to pay $2,000,000,000 to war veterans, nearly every one of the 2500 was ordered to converge on the House of Representatives and besiege congressmen with appeals for support. Tomorrow evening the "army" will make a mass demonstration, parading to the White House and Capitol.

A vote on the Patman measure was assured when the necessary 145 representatives signed a petition forcing the bill to the floor. It is conceded that sentiment for the bonus is increasing somewhat in the House. But even if the unexpected should happen and the House veto the bonus, a Presidential veto remains certain.

Despite the hopelessness of their cause and a shortage of food, the veterans are grimly determined to wait it out and see the House vote. Then and then only will they consider leaving. They are unmoved by the editor of the District of Columbia commissioners that the police cease feeding them on Thursday morning and eject them from their four improved barracks and

Program To Slash Taxes Is Planned

Former New York Man to Address Gathering in H. S. Auditorium

FIRST STEPS in a program outlined to reduce excessive taxation and return the United States to a condition of general prosperity, will be taken when the plan is presented for the first time at a mass meeting to be held tonight in the auditorium of the Santa Ana Polytechnic high school.

The meeting is being sponsored by the Orange County Civic League and will be addressed by John Leitch, formerly of New York and Philadelphia, but now a resident of Santa Ana. The speaking will start at 7:30 and will be broadcast over radio KRCG.

The new prosperity plan, to be advanced by Leitch, it is understood, calls for the people of America regaining control of all units of government. Instead of permitting public affairs to be controlled by a comparatively small group.

The meeting tonight, "of, by, and for the people of Orange County" will be asked to inaugurate a constructive program which will be heard in Washington, D. C., and Wall street, and set an example for other communities to follow. This example, if followed nationally, it is said, will eventually lead up to great national changes in government for the benefit of the great mass of the people.

Leitch will present his plan and call for action on the first step which, he declares, is lower taxes and reduced governmental expenditures in Orange County. The speaker for tonight has made an extensive study of governments of the world and believes the American system, as designed by the framers of the Constitution, is the best yet developed in the world and must be preserved.

"Between threats of riots and anarchy from the millions of unemployed, and dictatorship from the financiers, the American system is in danger, Leitch said today, and the great mass of people must act at once, in a courageous and intelligent manner and with a united front to avoid such perils.

"If anyone in Orange county doubts the necessity of immediate, aggressive and intelligent action, just let him look over today's papers," Leitch said today. "In this morning's papers we find that the Reconstruction Finance corporation's two billion dollars for banks and railroads has been spent and the president is requesting another billion." He pointed out other items of similar import and said that these are but indications of the need for immediate action.

SPECIAL STAFF TO COVER BIG CONVENTIONS

United Press to Send Experts to National Political Meetings

THE COMING national conventions, watched with interest unprecedented in recent years, will be covered by the United Press by men expert in this field.

A special staff for convention coverage has been organized with a view to giving the news of these major events outstandingly, supported by interpretative and color material of value and interest.

In addition to sending to Chicago a seasoned staff of political reporters and experts, the United Press has arranged for comprehensive wire systems linked directly from the convention hall to its trunk wires and geared for fast full action.

To mention a few of the star staff members assigned to these vitally important stories:

Raymond Clapper, Washington manager of the United Press, noted as a keen political reporter and commentator and recently national editor, will handle the main story of the two conventions. In addition to factual reporting, he will provide United Press readers with keen analysis and background material. Clapper's experience in the political field makes him second to none in this realm.

Morris De Haven, Tracy of Washington, former Pacific Coast manager and experienced in United Press bureaus throughout the country, will bring to the report a masterful writing style and an intimate knowledge of readers' interest throughout the country. As editor of the Washington bureau, Tracy has directed news on the major political developments for many months.

Lytle C. Wilson, capital chief of the United Press, with wide contacts among congress members and politicians generally, his pungent reporting style, and his familiarity with the behind the scenes material assures United Press clients of interesting copy.

WASHINGTON, June 6. (UP)—The senate today passed the tax bill late today, thereby making an unprecedented peace-time act designed to raise $1,118,500,000 (B) in new revenues. The bill was hurried to the White House after conference by the senate earlier. The various excise levies in the measure will become effective in 15 days.

The opposition centered on the three per cent electrical power tax. The conference report put the tax on the consumer. An insurgent element fought this provision on the ground that "backed down from the original intention of the tax—that it be paid by the power companies."

Senator Howell, Repn., Neb., opened the fight on the conference report, objecting to the 3 per cent tax on users of electrical energy. Howell made a point of order against the action of the conference. He said the conferees had exceeded their authority in levying a "sales tax on consumption of electrical energy." He contended the conferees had no right to extend the tax to energy from publicly owned power plants.

"The senate specifically excluded energy from publicly owned power plants," Howell said. "It must be evident that this is new matter and constitutes legislation by the conferees."

"Under the rule, the conferees have exceeded their power." Just before the final vote was taken, Chairman Smoot of the senate finance committee announced the completed measure would raise $1,118,500,000 in new revenue.

This, added to tax of $1,287,000,000.

SITUATION IN CHILE IS REPORTED GRAVE

SANTIAGO, Chile, June 6. (UP)—Popular manifestations against the socialistic regime instituted by the government revolutionary Junta headed by Carlos Davila and Col. Marmaduke Grove occurred in the streets late last night and this morning.

The situation was restless, although military police and troops appeared to have the situation in control.

Reports that a counter revolution was in progress were without foundation.

Some of the demonstrators cried "down with Grove; restore Monrovia."

Guards around the presidential palace were reinforced. The city was filled with rumors all through the night and people gathered in groups in the streets, discussing the Davila coup.

WILL TAKE BODIES FROM CRATER PIT

HILLO, T. H., June 6. (UP)—One thousand dollars was the price to be paid R. Kunishi, a Hilo contractor, for the task he set about today—that of bringing the bodies of Margaret Enos and Sylvester Nunes 900 feet up from the fire pit, Halemaumau, where nine leaped with his 17 year old high school sweetheart's body following an unhappy love affair.

Kunishi went about his work of erecting a scaffolding for the ropes and pulleys whereby he will lower himself into the pit, unmindful of the constant roar and seething of the lava far below.

Nunes shot and killed the girl after she refused his marriage proposal, and then leaped with her body in his arms into the smoking, red lighted crater. National park rangers discovered their bodies on a rocky ledge 900 feet below the crater's rim.

NO WORD IS HEARD FROM MISSING ACE

LONDON, June 6. (UP)—Airmen from London to Warsaw and air officials of several European nations who waited in vain for word of Stanislaus Hausner on his projected New York-Warsaw flight feared he had been lost in the Atlantic.

The only possibility was that he might have landed somewhere on the continent where he would be out of communication with the world. His fuel supply would have been exhausted early Sunday.

A garage proprietor at Cork, Ireland, over which the great circle route would carry a flier over St. George's channel, reported he heard the motor of a powerful airplane early Sunday. Officials could find no other resident of the district who reported hearing an airplane.

RESUBMISSION IS PLANNED BY G. O. P.

WASHINGTON, June 6. (UP)—Adoption of a prohibition resubmission plank by the Republican national committee is definitely predicted by some of the party leaders now busily engaged in a search for the best formula in which to embody such a declaration.

"I am confident now that a resubmission plank will be adopted," said Senator Moses, N. H., at a conference of party chiefs in the seclusion of the congressional Country club Sunday afternoon.

WASHINGTON, June 6. (UP)—A receivership suit against Warner Brothers Pictures Incorporated was dismissed by Chief Justice James Pennewill in federal court today.

Dismissal resulted when it was found the plaintiff, Marius P. V. Newcastle of New York City, wished only to make an effort to have the suit amended to the federal court suit filed here last week by Harry Koplar of University City, Mo. The chancery court denied the amendment petition prior to dismissing the suit.

FRANK EGAN FAILS TO GIVE SELF UP

SAN FRANCISCO, June 6. (UP)—Frank Egan, San Francisco public defender wanted in connection with the murder of Mrs. Jessie Scott Hughes, failed to appear at the hall of justice at 10 a. m. today, the time his attorney had promised to surrender him.

Police indicated they would wait another hour before redoubing their efforts to locate him.

Vincent Hallinan, attorney for Egan, left his office about 10 o'clock, saying he would "bring in Egan some time today."

OWEN D. YOUNG IN TALK TO GRADUATES

SOUTH BEND, Ind., June 6. (UP)—Wider executive powers may be necessary for the president if America's economic depression is to be solved, Owen D. Young, often mentioned democratic dark horse presidential possibility, believes.

Young, in commencement address at Notre Dame university Sunday, suggested that the organization of the government was such it could not cope adequately with the present economic crisis.

"It may be," said Young, "that we shall have to consider some method of putting extraordinary powers in the hands of the president in times like these."

DAWES RESIGNS AS CORPORATION HEAD

WASHINGTON, June 6. (UP)—Charles G. Dawes resigned today as president of the Reconstruction Finance corporation.

President Hoover accepted the resignation.

Dawes' letter expressed regret at resigning but said "Now that the balancing of the national budget by congress is assured, the turning point toward eventual prosperity in this country seems to have been reached."

HUNT GANGSTERS IN KIDNAPING LETTERS

HITLER FASCISTS MAKE MORE GAINS

BERLIN, June 6. (UP)—Adolf Hitler's Fascists continued their march towards political control of Germany in Sunday's elections to the diet in the state of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, in which they won absolute control of the diet, taking 30 of the 59 seats.

Thus, they won complete control of their second state government in Germany and control five others in combination with right wing collaborators.

Final returns today gave the following representation in the diet:

Nazis, 30; Socialists, 13; Communists, 4; Nationalists, 5; combined middle parties, 1; combined Nationalist-Mecklenburgers, 1. In the old diet, the Nazis had only 4

DURAND, Ill., June 6. (UP)—The engineer of the Southwest Limited of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul & Pacific railroad was killed and two mail clerks injured early today when part of the train was derailed by a washout near here.

BRITISH SECRETARY TO VISIT DEVALERA

LONDON, June 6. (UP)—J. H. Thomas, Dominions secretary, informed the house of commons today that he and Lord Hallahan, secretary of state for war, were going to Dublin to negotiate the Irish dispute directly with President Eamon De Valera.

De Valera, Thomas added, has agreed after starting the negotiations in Dublin, to come to London to resume the conversations next Friday.

Thomas' announcement was a complete surprise. It indicated that although De Valera is adamant on abolishing the oath to the crown, he thinks a way may be found around the difficulty which will enable Britain to treat with the free state at Ottawa as a co-equal member of the commonwealth.

Political celebrities and important figures of former conventions will be on hand in large numbers. Charles G. Dawes, president of the reconstruction finance corporation, and former Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois will be delegates from Illinois.

William S. Vane of Pennsylvania, who started the break to Mr. Hoover at Kansas City four years ago, will be present again as chief of ten Pennsylvania delegation.

The most prominent woman in the convention will be Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, the dry Joan of Arc in 1928, but since then the attorney for grape concentrate manufacturers. She is a delegate from California along with Louis B. Mayer, the motion picture producer.

SCREEN STARS HEAVY LOSERS IN BANK CRASH

HOLLYWOOD, June 6.—(UP)—Scores of screen stars, including Greta Garbo, Will Rogers, Harold Lloyd and Jean Harlow, were hit hard by the closing of the First National bank of Beverly Hills. It was reported here today.

Miss Harlow, the screen's platinum blonde, admitted to the United Press that she had all her cash in the institution when it halted business Friday night on the order of its directors.

"Unfortunately, it is true," Miss Harlow said when questioned about her deposits in the bank. "I had in the First National every bit of cash I had. It came at an exceptionally bad time for me because I had just made an especially large deposit."

"I'm hard hit but don't think I'm the only one. Dozens of actors and actresses kept their accounts there." Rogers and Lloyd both were reported to be heavy depositors in the First National of Beverly Hills. Rogers maintained an office in the bank building.

The bank refused to give out any information about its depositors.

It was reported that the amount Miss Harlow had in the institution ran to six figures but she declined to comment on that point.

The Los Angeles Record said today that it learned through associates of Miss Garbo at her screen studio that the Swedish star had "about a million dollars in that bank."

The bank was closed to protect depositors, the directors said. Some of Southern California's leading financiers were officers in the bank. Its president is Richard Hargreaves, formerly the husband of Grace Bryan Hargreaves, daughter of William Jennings Bryan.

Hargreaves was divorced by Bryan's daughter. He recently was married to Helen Ferguson, stage and screen actress and widow of William Russell, actor.

FOUNDER OF DANA POINT PASSES AWAY

Anna Gertrude Walters, 59, known as the founder of Dana Point, and a pioneer of Orange county, died at her home in Dana Point Sunday.

The body was removed to the Smith and Tutill undertaking parlors where announcement of funeral services will be made later.

Mrs. Walters was born in Iowa on January 25, 1873, and came to California when she was 20 years of age.

Settling in Anaheim with her parents Mrs. Walters was a resident of the Mother Colony for 25 years and later moved to Laguna Beach where she resided for another decade before going to Dana Point where she was the prime mover in developing that community.

Mrs. Walters is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Carrie Lovell of Los Angeles and Mrs. N. G. Anderson of Hollywood and three brothers, George Elmore and Will Elmore of Los Angeles and Frank Elmore of Fullerton. She also was the aunt of Mrs. A. E. Guy of Dana Point.

REVENUE BILL IS PASSED BY SENATE TODAY

900,000 under the present revenue law would make a total of $2,405,500,000 in taxes.

A record vote was taken after it appeared the senate had accepted the measure without that formality. The insurgent bloc demanded a vote, however, and it was 46 to 35.

CONSERVATION ACTION URGED IN WATER MEET

erable discussion, some of it heated, followed, with several state legislators objecting to the motion on the grounds that it was up to the governor to call a special session. It was explained that the motion was not to call a meeting of the legislature but to go on record as favoring a session.

The motion, however, was never adopted, and was withdrawn on the request of Hal G. Hotchkiss of San Diego, president of the council, who presided over the meeting, who declared that the council did not wish to put any legislator "on the spot."

Thirty out of 40 members of the council were present, as well as many other persons known throughout the state. All of the nine southern counties were represented.

Publishers Speak

Two speakers, P. D. Nowell, publisher of the Tulare Advance-Register, and Lotus H. Loudon, of Anaheim, vice president of the council, mentioned the fact that Kern and Tulare counties, which are in the San Joaquin valley and which stand to be benefited mainly by the water conservation program as outlined in the report, came to the assistance of the south in voting for the re-apportionment measure and that at that time it was understood that this section would help them in the water program.

John Austin, former president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and well known citizen of that city, spoke briefly, stating that people must see with a wider vision; must see that if water is not provided in sections where it is needed that there will be an exodus from the state. The greater proportion of the water is in the north, he said, and the surplus is needed in the south. Proper distribution for mutual benefit must be obtained, he declared.

Hotchkiss, in opening the meeting following the luncheon, explained the objects of the Economic Council and spoke briefly on the water situation in the state. "The legislature," he said, "has talked water plans for 50 years. Now is the first time a specific recommendation has been made. I am sorry the governor's commission has made no report. We are in favor of a special session of the legislature. When land in the state dries up it is time to do something."

Explains Report

The legislative report was explained by three members of the committee who were present, Assemblyman Robert Patterson, of Tule, Assemblyman Ted Craig, of Brea, and Assemblyman Chester Kline, of San Jacinto. All of them pointed out that farm lands in the state are drying up for lack of water; that the governor wanted the report; that more than a million dollars has been spent in investigations; that the people of the state are safeguarded in the proposed enabling act; that minor details are under dispute; that some hold out for a limit on the amount of state credit granted to proposed water districts; that there is an urgent need for water and immediate action to secure it; that federal aid is in the offing; that the employment situation would be materially aided by the $160,000,000 project; and that a special session of the legislature is urgent.

Assemblyman Craig declared that the entire matter is up to the voters of the state in the final analysis; that the enabling act is the safest ever conceived; that there is certain gamble to the matter as there is in every venture; that under the provisions, a district to be formed would have to prove its economic ability to redeem the bonds issued on state credit within the 70-year period and that the matter would have to pass through the hands of the special commission that would investigate, then through the governor's hands and then be approved by the people of the state.

The seriousness of the situation in the San Joaquin valley was brought out by two speakers, A. E. Mott, executive secretary of the Tulare board of trade and P. D. Nowell, Tulare publisher. Both speakers emphasized the fact that the problem is of a state-wide scope. "In Tulare," Mott said, "we are fighting with our backs to the wall. The water recedes fast. The desert continues to encroach until 10 years from now 50 per cent of the land will not be usable."

Back of Project

Nowell asserted that newspapers of the state were back of the project, as well as the largest chambers of commerce and other organizations. Even in Sacramento valley, he declared, from which place the water is to be taken, people realize that no special section of the state can benefit while other sections die from lack of water. The valley wants assurance of enough water for their needs, he said.

Hugh Jewett, of Kern county, spoke of the economic aspect of the necessity for furnishing water to the San Joaquin valley. He pointed out that 90 per cent of the agricultural products of the district came to the southern part of the state. The tourist trade, he said, the largest business of the state, would be greatly injured by the desert claiming the central part.

Senator Joe Riley, of Bishop, in the Owens valley district, decried the proposed plan because it would not be of aid to Owens valley, which, he said, has been drained dry by Los Angeles. He asked why his section and San Diego county had not been taken into consideration in the report. "My district," he asserted, "has been devastated by Los Angeles and now we are left out of the state program. I will do all I can to oppose the state program until thinking men get behind Owens valley and come to its assistance."

The question of whether it was wise to bring water to San Joaquin valley from Sacramento valley to which San Joaquin has no title was brought out and was answered by residents of that section by the statement they were willing to take the chance. Objection was also raised to the recapture clause in the report, as well as to section two, which is on the rights of water sheds.

Assemblyman Charles Dempster of Los Angeles was particularly emphatic in his statements that a special session of the legislature should be called, and moved that all legislators agreeing so vote by standing. The motion, however, was never put, and was withdrawn.

Objects to Report

Assemblyman Robinson of Imperial county objected to the report, stating that 55 per cent of the irrigation districts in the state have defaulted bonds. He said he was not in favor of a quick solution of the problem. Other assemblymen pointed out that Imperial has all the water it needs.

Assemblyman Craig declared that the governor should develop some leadership; that he knew the water problems of the state and it was up to him to call the special session. The legislature committee had previously recommended that a special session should be called if the "governor deemed it necessary."

Senator Nels Edwards of Orange county declared that he did not want to go on record at the meeting as favoring the measure.

Phil A. Stanton, of Orange county, state highway commissioner, who suggested that no action be taken but that the sense of the meeting be that the governor's commission be urged to speed up their report and that after their report was given, if there were any differences with the legislative committee, to hold a meeting to iron out the difficulties. Then, he said, he believed the governor would call a special session of the legislature within 24 hours to consider the reports. It is essential to have something tangible to present when a special session is held, he declared.

Unemployment came in for consideration at the meeting as it is connected with the work which would be furnished in the $160,000,000 project to bring water from the Sacramento valley down through the central part of the state is adopted.

Assemblyman Craig announced that a meeting of the governor's commission was scheduled to be held next Friday and that he expected some action to come out of the meeting.

To the person who submits the best essay on the "Forgotten Commandments" after seeing the same on either Wednesday or Thursday, June 8th or 9th, a cash prize of $10.00 will be awarded. The next best essay will receive a cash prize of $2.50; the third best, a month's pass to the Fox West Coast Theatre, and the next two best essays, two-trip passes each.

'Forgotten Commandments' Shows

"Old Beliefs Shattered," "Old Rules Discarded," "New Morals Flaunted—it's today's story in Today's Language."

In order to be able to write an intelligent essay on the picture, it is necessary that you see the picture Wednesday or Thursday, June 8 or 9. Prizes awarded on stage of Fox West Coast Theatre Saturday evening at 9 P. M.

Anxious for a wedding picture the party grouped itself on the courthouse lawn, pictures were taken and then it was discovered that the canon, captured by American troops during the World war and placed on the lawn as a memorial to "those who had made the supreme sacrifice," loomed over the bridal party as the most obvious of backgrounds.

Cynics at the courthouse viewed the background and said, "Well, why not?"

SPURGEON WINS CONTESTS AT CHURCH PICNIC

More than 1000 members of the First Christian, First Baptist and Spurgeon Memorial churches gathered Saturday in Irvine park for the annual Tri-ethnic church picnic.

The morning and afternoon programs were devoted to athletic and other contests between representatives of the three churches. Totalling scores of all events gave first place to Spurgeon Memorial with 33 points. First Baptist church was second with 20 points and the First Christian church collected a total of 18 points.

Honors at baseball went to the Spurgeon team. In the morning the boys of the church, under 15 years of age, defeated a team composed of boys from the other two churches. In the afternoon the men's team from Spurgeon defeated the Baptist men 11 to 9 in a hard fought contest.

Winners in the various events during the day were: Boys 7 and 8 years 35-yard dash: Robert Wilson (Spurgeon), first; Philip Caley (Spurgeon), second; Dick Hill (Christian), third. 35-yard dash, boys 9 and 10 years old: Charles Laxton, (Baptist), Charles Pride (C), Howard McMillan (S); 35-yard dash, girls 9 and 10 years old: Barbara Jennings (B), Mary Boyd (S), Betty Huntton (S); 50-yard dash, boys 11 and 12 years old: Nathan Levens (C), Herbert Frisbe (C), and Norman Haskell (C); 50-yard dash, girls 11 and 12 years old: Lenora Marchant (B), Marjorie Lewis (S), and Dorothy Abbott (S); 75-yard dash, boys 13 and 14 years old: Robert Pannell (S), Billie Brooks (S), and Harry Owings (B); 75-yard dash for girls 13 and 14 years old: Nettie Wright (C), Malinda Stranek (B), and Lucille Knowlton (B); 100-yard dash, unlimited, Ralph Gordon (S), Ernest Danielson (B), Harry Appling (B).

The centipede race between men's teams from Spurgeon and the Spurgeon team. The "Home the Christian church was won by Stretch" was won by a team from the Christian church and the Rev. Harry Owings, pastor of the First Baptist church won the race in changing attire. The Rev. Cecil M. Akers, pastor of the Spurgeon Memorial church was second and the Rev. W. S. Buchanan was third.

one open-air camp on the banks of the Potomac.

Reinforcements for the army continue to straggle into the city. Police and veterans' leaders estimate from 2000 to 4000 more will be here by midweek. From Berks county, Pennsylvania, came 246 last night. Sixty arrived from Schenectady, N. Y., in trucks provided by businessmen. Smaller groups came in from Illinois and Ohio points.

Other bridiads were being impeded by storms and by the refusal of railroads and cities to provide transportation and food. A near cloudburst drenched 250 at Hammond, Ind., where the Pennsylvania refused to give them box cars for their journey. A Texas-Oklahoma battalion of 450 was stranded in Memphis, Tenn. Yet in Los Angeles, 1000 veterans signed up to attempt the 3000 mile trek across the continent.

many conventions, with wide contacts, and a powerful insight into the ways and methods of conventions and their directors, will be another of the expert battery furnishing up to the minute news and interpretation.

On the lighter side of the conventions—the humor and the human interest—there will be assigned Henry McLemore of New York, who has gained a national reputation as conductor of the sports parade; Ray Black and F. C. Othman of Chicago, special feature writers whose work needs no introduction. This group will supply plenty of laugh and feature copy.

Looking after special coverage angles and general assignments will be a staff of men provided from Washington, Chicago and other bureaus.

Supervising the reports will be Carl G. Groat, news director, who has had experience in political conventions, in Washington, numerous domestic and foreign bureaus; and Earl J. Johnson, night news editor, who has had wide experience in organization work in New York and in other major bureaus.

Robert J. Bender, vice-president and general news manager, will transfer his headquarters to Chicago for the period of the conventions, directing the day and night news reports and bringing to bear on them a newspaper experience of many years, including political reporting and knowledge gathered in campaigns of the past 20 years.

taken that the rule "wiping out as it does every standing rule of the House, practically allows the ways and means committee to legislate."

Later the House ways and means committee again reported the Garner relief bill, with amendments lowering the construction cost limit of small post offices included under the building program. This alteration is roughly estimated to reduce the total of the bill approximately $30,000,000. This was the only substantial change from the measure as originally approved by the committee several days ago.

3 MEN JAILED AS SUSPECTS IN ROBBERY HERE

The story of an apparent "inside job" came to light today with the arrest of three men, who are being held by the Santa Ana police department on investigation of burglary and robbery in connection with the holding up of two night watchmen, one of them alleged to be in with the group of bandits, who at the point of a gun on the night of May 13, stole a Smart and Final truck and escaped with cigars valued at $2000.

Complaints against Edward G. McAdoo, 28, of 325 North Shafter street, Orange; his brother, George W. McAdoo, 29, of 292 South Lemon street, Orange, and Marian Eckroat, 27, of 373 North Pine street, Orange, will probably be signed this afternoon, charging them with burglary and robbery. It was indicated at the police station.

George McAdoo was employed at the Smart and Final warehouse as a night watchman and is said to have let the other two alleged bandits into the warehouse, where they bound him and the other night watchman, Bill Ragan, and escaped with 26 cases of cigars.

Police Captain Buckles, Detective Sergeant Wolford and Acting Chief Pink arrested Eckroat Saturday in Orange, assisted by Chief Richards of Orange. The arrests were made following the information obtained that a quantity of cigars had been sold in Newport Beach, where assistance was furnished by Chief R. R. Hodgkinson. Four of the cases of cigars were recovered and the balance of the loot is expected to be recovered.

Edward McAdoo and George McAdoo were arrested late this morning. One of the gang is alleged to have confessed to the plot. Both the gun which was taken from Watchman Ragan and the gun used in the hold-up have been recovered, police said. Ragan was not implicated in the robbery. The gun used in the robbery was found at the home of George McAdoo in Orange, according to police.

Clem Holmberg, another night watchman at the Smart and Final warehouse, was scheduled to come to the police station today in order to identify the gang as the same ones that robbed the warehouse on February 22, when Holmberg was shot in the cheek by a bandit. Police believe the alleged bandits arrested are the same ones that performed the February robbery.

PROCEEDS OF CONVENTION TO GO TO JOBLESS

BY THE OBSERVER

Owing to the tremendous interest being shown from all over Orange County in the Democratic National Convention to be held in Santa Ana next Friday evening, the local committee in charge of arrangements has decided to take up a good will offering at the door and turn all receipts over to the Citizens Relief committee to be used for the benefit of the unemployed.

Senator Adonis Wholes, of Kentucky, is one of the political lights of the country who will be at the Democratic National Convention at Santa Ana High school auditorium next Friday evening to assist in nominating his party's candidates for president and vice president and to debate the planks set forth in the party platform.

Senator Wholes declares that he is not opposed to national prohibition except on one score.

"We should be allowed to have mint juleps," he announced today when interviewed in his luxurious suite at the Santa Ana hotel. "How can we Kentuckians keep up our morale without mint juleps?"

The senator has a wide reputation throughout the South as an orator of the old school, in fact he is often called the Daniel Webster of Kentucky. He stated today that he and his fellow-delegates are pledged to support Speaker of the House John Garner of Texas "until released."

That phrase "until released" so often heard at the convention draws nearer carries a world of exciting possibilities for the big gathering. Many delegations are known to be pledged, "until released" by their candidates. How soon these votes may be released or for whom they will be cast constitutes in large part the uncertainty of the whole convention outcome. They may turn a "dark horse" into a serious contender for presidential honors, even change a comparatively unknown man into president or vice president of these United States.

New Jersey will have 36 votes in the convention. It is authoritatively reported that 32 of these will be cast for Al Smith.

Pennsylvania will have 76 votes. From a political leader who usually knows whereof he speaks it was learned that 65 of these will go to Franklin D. Roosevelt.

There is now no question that all 46 Texas votes will go solidly for Garner, unless "released." But if the Garner cause should look hopeless in which direction will they turn?

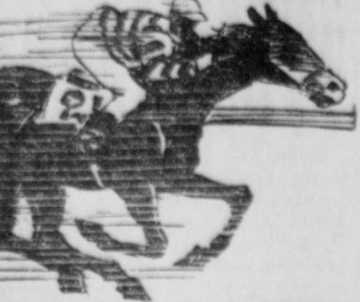

The first prize in the bicycle race will be a framed copy of the party platform, the second a framed tin-type of the party candidate for president. Every contestant will be given a bottle of orange juice to refresh himself after the grueling ordeal.

Corsages of Santa Ana's civic flower will be furnished all wives of delegates as soon as they arrive in town. These bouquets will act as passes to all entertainment features during the stay in this city.

This committee is co-operating with the editor of Ralph Smedley's Rotarian Wheelbarrow in planning to hold an outdoor meeting at Birch park for the members of the newly formed Mutual Benefit and Cooperative Association of Potential Su-

CONSERVATORY SENIORS WILL GIVE RECITAL

The seniors' spring recital of Santa Ana Conservatory of Music will be given at the Ebell clubhouse tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. This will mark the eighth annual graduation recital of this institution.

The program will open with one act play, "The Legend of the Willow," given by the students of Gladys Simpson Shafer, those taking part are: Betty Jo Williams, Bluma Hurwitz, Libby Peale, Jane King, Charlotte Quigley, Betty Jane Timmons, Howard Brown, Burr Shafer Jr., Madalynne Reuter and Roberta Shafer.

Vocal and instrumental numbers will be also offered, including duos, trios, quartet and quintet. Miss Georgia Bell Walton, Miss Mary Clanton and George Stinson will be featured in the evening program. Miss Walton will offer "The Chinese Tambourine" and "The Midnight Bells" by Fritz Kreisler. Miss Clanton will read "The White Shadows" by Weaver, and George Stinson will sing "Celeste Aida" from the grand opera "Aida" by Verdi. The Treble Clef trio composed of Lorene Hanson, Edna Bichan and Blanche Owens, will offer two numbers, "By the Bend of the River" by Hemmick and "Mah Lindy Lou" by Strickland. The Santa Ana Brass quintet will give a selection of Stephen Foster songs. Students appearing on the musical program are: Evelyn Furtsch, Marie Stewart, Doris Filippin, Althea Lemke, Caroline Pickering, Anna Mae Archer, Lorene Hanson, Edna Bichan, Blanche Owens, Mutea Wada, Elizabeth Lennhart, Nancy Lou Hargrave, Robert Kelly, Owen Owens, Harold Lutes, Thomas Filippin, Donald Smiley and Lynnwood Young.

As is the custom no admission is charged and the public is cordially invited to attend.

SCHOOL BUDGET START WORK ON IN ANAHEIM IS NEWS $1,000,000 GAS PIPE LINE CUT $36,000

Slashing operation and maintenance costs to the lowest possible figures, continuing a recent five per cent salary cut to the faculty, and cutting capital outlays to the bone the board of trustees of Anaheim Grammar schools were able to make a $36,275 reduction in the proposed 1932-33 budget under expenses for the year now closing it was announced today by Superintendent M. A. Gauer.

The budget was adopted at a meeting of the board last Friday and a public hearing on it will be held before the trustees meeting at the Fremont school auditorium at 7:30 on the evening of July 18.

The new budget calls for a total expenditure of $143,194 as compared to the $179,469 for the current year. It provides for a $32,739 slash in capital outlays; $5890 in teachers' salaries; $575 in operation costs; $450 in general control and $256 for the library.

"Any further cuts must mean curtailment of the educational program and I do not believe the people want that," said Supt. Gauer. The only possible way was to make further cuts with seriously hampering the educational program is by another cut in salaries, he said.

That the grammar school system is able to make any cuts at all is considered remarkable by Supt. Gauer who points out that the local system is already operating without any of the educational frills which many other schools boast.

The per pupil cost last year was $31.27 as compared to a county average of $34 as figured by the grand jury and $102.65 as figured by the county farm bureau. The state per pupil average is $102.65. For cities of 10,000 to 30,000 population throughout the United States the average is $87 per pupil and Anaheim is low on the list, according to Supt. Gauer.

Further reduction in the numbers of teachers is impossible but it would be possible to take care of 550 more pupils without increasing instructional costs he indicated.

Employment of ten new teachers for next year to take the place of those who have resigned or been dismissed because of the teachers' tenure law was also announced by Supt. Gauer. They are: Winnie Ethel Campbell, Music, who taught at Taft high school last year; Marie A. Webster, home economics, who formerly taught at Redondo; Adele Elsie Zorn, Los Angeles probationary three years; Dorothy Hall, U. C. L. A.; Lawrence W. Allen, Redlands; Dorothy Hansen from U. C. L. A.; Freda Heinze from San Jose; Eleanor Palmer from Occidental; Laura Dean from U. C. L. A.; and Emilie Axtell who taught here last year.

Resignations were accepted from Miss Ernestine Coleman who is to be married; Mrs. Bamel Dixon, who has accepted the principalship of Leora school, and Richard Magin who has accepted a principalship at Pico.

The proposed new budget adopted by the board is itemized as follows: General control, $6705; teachers' salaries, $101,570; other instructional costs, $4650; library, $2500; operation, $13,695; maintenance, $4464; fixed charges, $2500; capital outlays, $3835 and auxiliary agencies, $3145.

The budget for the closing year provided for these same classifications as follows: general control, $7125; teachers' salaries, $107,460; other instructional costs, $4,650; library, $2516; operation, $14,270; maintenance, $1400; fixed charges, $1650; capital outlays, $36,573, and auxiliary agencies, $3125.

Police News

Mrs. Gladys Llewellyn, Anaheim music store proprietor, was arrested by Deputy Sheriff McKelvey on a warrant from the San Diego police department concerning illegal check activities, according to records on file at the sheriff's office. She is being held in the county jail for San Diego officers.

Charged with non-support of a minor child, William G. Chamberlain, 25, of 1322 West Fourth street, Santa Ana, was lodged in the county jail Saturday on a warrant from San Bernardino, according to records on file at the sheriff's office. He was released later on receipt of word from San Bernardino officers. He is scheduled to appear in San Bernardino tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock to answer to the charge. He was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Nicholson.

START WORK ON NEWS $1,000,000 GAS PIPE LINE

Work on the Southern Counties Gas company's $1,000,000 pipe line to San Diego started at Huntington Beach this morning, with the project scheduled to be completed by September 1.

The gas company has arranged with welfare organizations in Orange county cities for the employment of workers, each community being allotted a certain number of workers. The men will work six days per week and will be rotated in order to provide employment for a large number of needy men. Approximately 100 workers will be employed in Orange county.

The operations in San Diego are under contract to a private firm, according to Charles E. Rutledge, district manager. The San Diego county work started today at Oceanside, with crews working both ways from that city.

The starting point at Huntington Beach was at Golden West and Garfield avenues in the oil field. The line joins at that point with pipe which connects with the Signal Hill field.

The line will follow the Coast highway to San Diego. The work will be done by hand labor, with the men paid on the footage basis at the rate of 15 cents per foot.

COAST Y LEADER TO SPEAK AT DINNER HERE

Fred M. Hanson, regional representative of the National Council of the Y. M. C. A., whose territory covers the entire Pacific coast, will visit the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. tomorrow evening will be heard in a discussion of current problems of Y. M. C. A. work at a dinner to be held at 6:30 p. m.

Hanson's work takes him into all parts of the west, and gives him the opportunity to learn of all the plans and methods which are being used to meet the present emergencies. He is expected to bring concrete suggestions as well as encouragement to the local Y. M. C. A. workers in the meeting, to which all friends and members of the association are invited.

Secretary Ralph Smedley requests that advance reservations be made not later than Monday evening, to facilitate preparations for the dinner.

The Y. M. C. A. in all parts of the land, according to Smedley, is making heroic efforts to serve to the best advantage in the difficulties of the present day, and by the exchange of ideas and plans, such as is made possible by Hanson's visit, the effectiveness of the work is increased.

Suggests Meeting Of Candidates in Congress Race

Sumner Crosby, editor of the South Coast News of Laguna Beach, and a possible candidate for the Republican nomination for congress from the nineteenth district, suggested yesterday that the candidates be chosen at a tri-county conference of the candidates, or their representatives, to meet in Riverside or some other convenient place, and expressed his willingness to abide by the decision of that conference.

Such a movement, Crosby pointed out, would be aimed at the useless and unnecessary expenditure of funds and an attempt to bring order out of chaos.

Crosby pointed out that the nineteenth is a new district and he expressed the wish that it might become district-minded and move into the future united and in harmony with itself.

WARNS JOBLESS OF 'RACKETS ON PROPERTY, JOBS

A warning was issued today from the office of the Citizens Relief committee, Tenth and North Main streets, against racketeers operating in the realty field and victimizing those caught in the depression and about to lose their homes.

"These racketeers are taking advantage of the distress among unemployed persons about to lose property, representing themselves as Good Samaritans and friends in time of need," said Robert Speed, the Citizens' committee executive secretary. "They offer to trade the one pressed for money a clear title to land on the desert in exchange for his equity. Often this land is represented as near the site of the Colorado river aqueduct and sure to rise tremendously in value within a short time. Actually the land has cost the racketeer only a few cents an acre and there is little chance that it will ever be worth more."

"Those registered in our office for work are urged, if approached by these human harpies to consider the proposition very carefully before taking up with it. I would suggest they go to some reputable realty dealer, a banker, or some here for advice," Speed said.

"Another way in which these vultures are operating is in selling jobs that do not exist to the unemployed. This would seem too transparent a trick to succeed but it does in some cases. To those about to buy a job from a stranger I would urge that before paying out their good money they come to our office for advice. If the job exists we will know of it or can find out and are more than willing to do so even at considerable expense to ourselves. And there will be no cost attached for the one seeking the information."

MIDWAY CITY

MIDWAY CITY, June 6.—The sixth birthday anniversary of Joyce Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Campbell, was observed by her mother with an anniversary party at which six little girl friends of Joyce were the invited guests. After games, Mrs. Campbell interested them with stories after which refreshments were served. At the party were Shirley Davies, Dorothy Boden, Dorothy Miller, Lola Whitson, Helen Jeanette Hannagan, Alice Montgomery and the honoree, Joyce Campbell.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Robertson spent a day visiting in La Habra with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Farrar, of Long Beach, former Huntington Beach friends of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Shirley, spent Memorial day in the Shirley home. The visitors have just returned from Texas, where they have made their home for several years.

Mrs. Merrill, who has been at her former home in Dodge City, Kans., for many months, has returned to her home here. Her daughter, Miss Elsie Merrill, who has been employed in Los Angeles, also is at home.

Arthur Murdy, Mrs. Vida Pryor, Miss Helen Shirley and Donald Shirley were among former graduates of Huntington Beach Union High school attending the alumni meeting at the school.

PASTOR USES BAR AS DESK TO WRITE HOME

An experience in writing a letter on an old bar in a hotel in Cimmaron, New Mexico, while sitting in a chair in which two men had been killed, was related by the Rev. George A. Warner at the First M. E. church last night. Dr. Warner has just returned from the general conference of the Methodist church, held in Atlantic City. He said in part:

"One week ago last night we drove our car into Cimmaron, New Mexico, at a rather late dinner time hour. After inquiry the St. James hotel was recommended to us as the finest place in town."

"The hotel was of the old days. Across the east end was a bar with all the saloon equipment on the shelves behind the bar. A real old-fashioned saloon could start up in less than an hour at any time."

"The hotel was operated by Frank Lambert who was the son of a pioneer that had it constructed in the early days and had run it as a saloon. Frank himself had been the proprietor and the bar was in full swing and so far as we could see he was a loyal American citizen and was playing the game with the Constitution."

At the end of the bar was a high chair with lazy arms toward which I moved because all other seats were taken. Approaching it I discovered the family wash reposing therein. Mrs. Lambert hastened to move these clean washed clothes but to say that she did not know that I would care to use the chair because two men had been killed while sitting in it. This threw the guests into the discussion of the old days, and, to one who remembers, vividly brought back the scenes of rapine and murder, so far outdistancing the racketeering of the present hour, that was associated with the old saloon regime. Giving Mrs. Lambert the assurance that the chair would suit my purpose and that I had no superstition about being seated therein, I pushed it up to the end of the bar, and, from the polished mahogany, penned a description of the place along with my love to the folks at home.

"While the Conference was in session there were times when I felt that we were giving too much of our time to the discussion of prohibition but after this night and its experiences I was fully assured that no church group could stand too rigidly against any tampering with the Eighteenth amendment or too positively in favor of prohibition. The Methodist General Conference was prohibition-conscious. There is no question where she stands regarding this great issue. She is positively and aggressively for the Eighteenth amendment for its more rigid enforcement and for the election of men whose work and personal life are consistent with their votes in the legislative halls."

"The General Conference appointed two strong committees to attend the political conventions to protest against the insertion, in either great party platform, of a resubmission plank or the nomination of vet candidates. The church however, is growing conscious that prohibition and all the other social problems must be solved together; they are too vitally interlocked to be separately handled with success."

PASTOR RESIGNS BUENA PARK POST

BUENA PARK, June 6.—The resignation of the Rev. W. I. Newman, pastor of the Congregational church, was read at the close of the Sunday morning service. The resignation will be effective September 1. The pastor will begin a month's vacation August 1.

The Rev. Mr. Newman plans to take up post graduate work at the Pacific School of Religion in Berkeley, where he will take courses in social services and religious education.

A business meeting of church membership will be held next Sunday morning at the conclusion of the morning services.

EL MODENA

EL MODENA, June 6.—Mrs. M. Stainfors and nephew, of San Pedro, were recent visitors in the R. W. Jones home.

Miss Dolores Rogers, of Orange, spent Saturday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bricke.

Mrs. Nina Broad, who has made her home in this section for the past 10 years, has left for her former home in Canada.

Roscoe Schaffert has been ill for the past few days.

The last P. T. A. meeting of the school year will be held Friday in conjunction with the school picnic. Parents are invited to attend.

Harry Skiles, Robert Lingo and Lula May Skiles spent Monday fishing at Newport Beach.

STERILIZATION AIDS CONTROL FEEBLE MINDED

PASADENA, June 6.—That the intelligent part of the population is in danger of being swamped by the increase of the unintelligent part, is the conclusion of the Human Betterment Foundation, Pasadena, from a study of birth-rates.

Parents who send a child to the Sonoma State Home for the Feeble-minded are found to have twice as many children as do those who send a child to the state university at Berkeley.

If this trend continues, the Foundation points out that it will be only a question of time when the population is made up in large part of families that can produce feeble-minded children for the state institutions, but can not produce children who will become valuable citizens.

"One of the most hopeful facts," says the report, "is that the feeble-minded who are released from the state institutions are now usually sterilized by a simple surgical operation, which prevents parenthood but does not alter their lives in any other way. This enables many of them to make a good adjustment in society, even to marry, when they could not do so if they were certain to produce families of children for whom they could not care."

Physician Lectures to Women Only in Santa Ana Wednesday Morning

The Clinic of the Air Physician will give two lectures in Santa Ana Wednesday, June 8th, in the Ebell Hall. Both lectures are thoroughly illustrated with stereopticon pictures, which are curiously colored while the lecture is given. The morning lecture will begin at 10 o'clock and is for women only. Every woman should attend the morning lecture. Many important subjects will be considered, which for obvious reasons cannot be broadcast.

At 1:45 in the afternoon the lecture will be for men and women and is of vital importance, the subject being "The Endocrine Glands as Directors of Brain and Nerves." As some well known automobiles are made fun of, so has the subject of endocrine glands been wrongly discussed. The lecture will merely give a proper setting of these important structures. Few people realize how the endocrine glands can upset the mind and nerves, nor do many realize why so many diseases result from "nerves." If you have anemia, rheumatism, nervous indigestion, or one of a host of other troubles, be sure to attend the afternoon lecture. This notice in the Santa Ana Register will admit one. Extra complimentary tickets may be secured from The K B Drug Company, Main and Sixth streets, Santa Ana. The Clinic of the Air broadcasts regularly over Radio KNX on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, 9 to 9:30 a. m.

If you can't possibly attend, tune in on KREG from 7:30 to 8:30

AUSPICES, ORANGE COUNTY CIVIC LEAGUE

EVENTS SHOW NECESSITY FOR IMMEDIATE ACTION

150,000,000 acres of land already taken over by various states for non-payment of taxes.

39,699 farms in Mississippi alone sold by sheriffs for taxes, comprising ONE-FOURTH of the area of entire state.

Orange county and school government costs increased $3,000,000 in five years, from 1927 to 1931.

In Santa Ana, costs of city, school, and county government alone last year (not counting state and Federal taxes) was $111 PER PERSON.

It cost $12,800,000,000 last year to run our governmental machinery — more than twice the value of all farm products.

Unpaid taxes ran as high as 30 per cent in various states. One Kansas county estimates it will be lucky to collect 12 per cent of this year's tax levy.

Macon (Ga.) Telegraph: By process of law supposed to guarantee the American system, we are practicing Communism.

Galveston Daily News: Here is a situation essentially destructive of the American politico-economic system. It is an absolute denial of the democratic theory that the government exists for the benefit of the people and not the people for the benefit of the government.

Jackson (Miss.) Clarion-Ledger: If the taxpayers will organize one half as strongly as those who are eating at the public trough, then economy can be forced into the heads of office holders.

HAVERS SECOND IN QUALIFYING PLAY WITH 71

SANDWICH, Eng., June 6.—(UP)—Clipping four strokes of a Royal St. George's difficult par, A. R. Bradbeer, English professional, scored a 70 today to lead the field in the first qualifying round of the British open golf championship.

Close behind was Arthur Havers, another British pro, who had a 71 on Prince's course.

Behind them were two Americans, Gene Sarazen, stocky New York pro, and MacDonald Smith, also of New York, with 73's made at Prince's. Others with 73's included Lister Hartley, veteran British amateur; Ted Ray, British pro, and Abe Mitchell, private golfing tutor to the Aga Khan.

Tommy Armour of Detroit, defending champion and the third important American player in the tournament, had a 75.

Hole-In-One? 'Cinch' Says Earle Gillen

A hole-in-one is the most difficult shot in golf, with the odds more than a thousand-to-one against the player, but it was merely another masher shot in the week end of Earle Gillen, Fullerton salesman of 535 Malvern avenue.

Gillen aced the 135-yard No. 11 hole at Willowick, Santa Ana public course, while playing with Tommy Thompson of Santa Ana, C. Chapman of Fullerton and E. Farnholm of Los Angeles Saturday. He took a 77 for the round.

Then he came right back with another hole-in-one Sunday, sinking his tee shot on the 115-yard No. 12 at Hacienda Country club, La Habra.

Gillen's ace at Willowick was the ninth on record at the West Fifth street club. Others who turned the trick, in order, were Lester Wilken, Roy Campbell, E. H. Guthrie, R. E. Gray, Joe Rowley, Frank Osborne, Jack Muzzall and Stanley Knox.

SPORT BULLETINS

CINCINNATI, O., June 6.—(UP)—Harry Heilmann, veteran of 14 American league campaigns and who entered the Cincinnati Reds in 1931, was given his unconditional release today by the Cincinnati club.

Heilmann was released in order to bring the Cincinnati squad within the 23 player limit by June 15.

OLYMPIC HOPES

by CLAUDE BURCKY

America has ready a young giant in practice has occasionally cut loose with a toss of better than 170 feet.

At University of Washington, before he graduated in 1930, the tall husky won football and track honors. He captained the grid team, playing offensive tackle and defensive center. His shot putting was in the 50-foot class. He held the state discus record at 155 feet 10 1-2 inches, which, incidentally, is more than the Olympic record Dr. Clarence (Bud) Houser established in 1928.

Jessup was named on the A. A. U. All-America track and field squad in 1931. He is a two-time champion in the National A. A. U. outdoor games and the national collegiate record-holder.

Technically, Jessup is not yet a world record-holder in the discus event, but his throw of 189 feet 8 7-8 inches in 1930 happens to be the best in competitive records. He has beaten 160 feet many times, and

NEXT: Hallowell of Harvard.

It finally has happened. Pedro Lopez has had enough. The other day he walked right out of Max Schmeling's training camp at Kingston, N. Y., vowing never to return.

Pedro Lopez is the 220-pound Indian who for more than two years has been taking it on the chin whenever "der chompeen" deemed such a treatment was required. Even an Indian begins to feel sorry for himself after leading the life of a punching bag for so long.

It appeared to me two years ago that Pedro wouldn't last another minute. He soaked up so many wallops in the training camp that you almost wondered if the man ever would be able to walk again.

HOW DID HE DO IT?

It was the same way last year at the Coneau Lake resort where Max whipped himself into shape for Stripling by knocking the senior around. Several times I moved away from the ring, expecting Pedro to come hurtling out on his cabbage-like ear. It was an ever-recurring miracle when Pedro would come up the next day for more.

Pedro went down plenty of times. Often it appeared that he surely never could get up again. It would have been merciful, if it seemed, if he could have slept this cruel life away right there in the ring.

OVERLOOKED

I remember there was an undertaker's convention at the park, and the sports writers used to speculate how long it would be before some snooty mortician should happen across Pedro and embalm him before the poor Indian could explain that he was really not a walking corpse at all, but a sparring partner in the camp of the world champion.

Pedro's position was painful, indeed. His role was to take it without giving it back. You might have thought that once in a while he would lose some of that impenetrable stoicism and, in a flare of temper, crack der Maxie on his championship chin.

But not Pedro. He just took it. And even if he had elected to trade a few hard ones with Maxie, he would only have brought more abuse at his ears. Pedro is not a very good boxer, has practically no defense at all and when he makes a pass at an opponent seems hindered by tight shoulder muscles.

PERFECT FOR THE PART

He was the ideal punching bag. It is not the purpose of a training camp to make the champion look bad to the public. To have a sparring partner step out and lambast the big shot from post to post is not the arrangement for which cameramen are invited to cover the activities. The pictures are supposed to show the champion's terrific punch and skill. Let the poor Indian was an excellent guinea pig upon which to perform while the shutters clicked.

Dispatches from Kingston stated that Lopez took a severe pasting on his final day in Schmeling's camp. He was staggered time after time by rocking punches, and his nose was bleeding freely when he left the ring. I didn't imagine Pedro had any blood left in his body, so much he had pushed forth at Coneau Lake Park, but it seemed he must have had a little reserve supply back somewhere.

"I'm tired," was what Pedro told New York newspaper men who sought him for a story. "Let somebody else take it for a while. I'm going away for a rest."

You'd think he would.

Bob Gerwing Wins Harbor Speed Race

NEWPORT BEACH, June 6.—(UP)—Arthur Bobrick of New York and Pasadena and Bob Gerwing of Santa Ana took honors in the 220-inch piston displacement class one design speedboat races here yesterday.

Bobrick is the recently elected commodore of the Southern California Outboard association.

FARNSWORTH IS ELIMINATED IN SENIORS' GOLF

Senior golfers of the Santa Ana Country club—"it at fifty"—moved into the third round of their first annual tournament today without the presence of the favorite F. E. (Ed) Farnsworth, one of the club's ablest players, who was unexpectedly eliminated in a second round match Saturday.

Farnsworth was put out by E. J. MacMullen, 3 and 2. This was the only real upset of the week's competition.

Results and third round pairings:

E. J. MacMullen (defeated F. E. Farnsworth 3 and 2) vs. J. E. Liebig (d. Geo. Jeffrey, 4 and 3).

J. W. Means (d. C. F. Smith, 1 up) vs. E. Wellington (d. C. E. Rutledge 2 up).

W. C. Pixley (d. Dr. J. I. Clark, 1 up) vs. T. E. Talbert (d. C. V. Davis, 1 up).

E. Fenelon (d. C. P. Boyer 3 and 2) vs. W. S. Wallace (d. Harry Spencer 4 and 0).

E. T. Mateer (d. Joe Burke 2 up) vs. B. W. McClure (d. R. O. Winkler 2 and 1).

C. R. Furr (d. Col. W. F. Nicholson 1 up) vs. C. D. Holmes (d. J. L. Allen 1 up).

A. J. Crutskhank (d. Lew Wallace 2 and 1) vs. L. M. Forcey (d. A. F. LeGage 1 up).

J. W. Warner (d. William Rohrbacher 1 up) vs. L. A. West (d. F. W. Chapman 2 and 1).

Bill Foote and B. V. Curry tied for first place in a Walter Hagen ball sweepstakes tournament Saturday, leading the Class A division with net 68's. Foote's card was 76-8-68 and Curry's 77-6-68. L. D. Coffing was third with 80-9-71.

The Class B tourney, attracting 41 entries, was won by J. S. Fluor with a card of 82-20-62. J. R. Huber was second at 82-16-66. Third were L. A. West, 82-24-68, and V. V. Tubbs, 90-22-68.

Country club mixed foursome winners:

Low gross: Violet Robinson and B. V. Curry, 86-10-76; low net, Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Gerhardt, 86-23-76; Second low net: Mrs. H. B. Rapp and G. B. Talbert, 99-22-77, and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Shields, 94-17-77.

Eastman Breaks Records In 880 And 800 Meters

SAN FRANCISCO, June 6.—(UP)—If a tape had been stretched across the quarter-mile mark Ben Eastman, Stanford middle distance runner, might have set three records in one race Saturday during the Pacific Athletic association track and field championships, but he was clocked only at the 880-yard and 800-meter finish lines, so today he had to be content with new world records in those distances only.

Eastman flashed across the 800-meter line in 1:50 flat, six-tenths of a second faster than the recognized world mark held by Sera Martin, French runner.

Then, springing on to the 880-yard tape, he was timed in 1:50.9, Dr. Otto Peltier, German star, holds the recognized record for this event in 1:51.6. Eastman had run the 880 before in 1:51.3.

STEVENS. PENA HEADLINE NEW CARD AT DELHI

"Black Jack" Stevens of San Gabriel and Henry Pena of Pico, the two fighters who caused a shortage on the Santa Ana middleweight market, headline Delhi's amateur boxing program for Thursday night.

Long in the making, the match was definitely sealed today by Matchmaker Kid Mexico and Promoter Elmer Willson.

Stevens and Pena are the men who recently checked the somewhat sensational progress of "Bud" McCarter and Lloyd Manderscheid, the Orange County Athletic club's leading 155-pounders.

Stevens stopped 'em both in less than a round. First he kayeed Manderscheid, dropping the former jaycee fullback with such sincerity that some of the fans feared for a few minutes that "Red" was seriously injured. Matchmaker Mexico thought it was due to a lucky punch, so he sent Stevens to the post against McCarter a few weeks later. McCarter, previously kayeed in a round by Pena, was also bumped off by the powerful colored brawler.

Pena is handled by Bert Colima, the former middleweight star. He is the only amateur who has licked Mike O'Gara, generally rated as Southern California amateur-don's No. 1 fighter.

The rest of the coming card:

Semi-windup—Ray Campo, San Gabriel, vs. Roy Roy Virgul, 118 pounds.

Preliminaries—Louie Rios, San Gabriel, vs. Steve Lozano, Pico, 125 pounds; Ruby Ione, San Gabriel, vs. Joe Palomino, Westminster, 115 pounds; Baby Sal Solis, Delhi, vs. Joe Torres, Pico, 120 pounds; Indian Jimmie Smith, Santa Ana, vs. Ed Orozco, Santa Ana; Nat Mills, Irvine, vs. Joe Colima, Pico, 135 pounds; Bill Wain, Westminster, vs. Bill French, 128 pounds; "Buck" Durbin, Santa Ana, vs. Al Ancinas, El Modena, 145 pounds.

Special event—Rudy Ione, San Gabriel, vs. Ralph Montoya, Pico, 138 pounds.

GIRL RESERVES IN CEREMONIAL AT CLUBHOUSE

ORANGE, June 6.—The gleam of burning tapers held in the hands of Girl Reserves who conducted an interesting and beautiful ceremonial at the Woman's clubhouse Saturday, lighted the fresh young faces above them and placed a fitting emphasis on the part "light" holds in the Girl Reserves' creed.

Members of the three triangles of the Intermediate school and of the Villa Park school joined in presenting a pageant, "New Lamps for Old" and the candle lighting ceremonial which followed it. The clubhouse lobby was decked with bouquets of blue corn-flowers and yellow corn-pops while large baskets were placed at each side of the stage and held tall spikes of gladioluses, larkspur and other blossoms.

Tells Objectives
In a few brief words, Mrs. Cal J. Lester, advisor of the four objectives of the group, which she said were body, mind, spirit and service to others. The year, Mrs. Lester said, had been divided in order to give these four themes equal parts in the program.

The first part of the year has been devoted to "spirit," and the theme was culminated in the fall ceremonial; the second part of the year was devoted to service to others and included the work done for the needy at Christmas time; the third part of the year was devoted to "mind" and Colonial times were studied as a part of the bi-centennial year and the culmination of this study was a Colonial party in the Episcopal church parish hall.

Pageant Presented
A large blue triangle centered with a white candle was placed at the back of the stage and at the inverted apex, a camp fire was laid. Wrought iron torches holding three white candles, were at each side of the stage, "New Lamps for Old" was given by a large group of girls in colorful costumes and in smartly cut crisp white uniforms with ties of soft powder blue.

Norma Craft played the role of the "Camp Spirit" and wore the costume of forest green. Norma is a member of the sixth grade triangle. The four spirits of health were played by Evelyn Glanville, Rachel Goode, Joyce Crawford and Evelyn Johnson. Mary Doyle was a graceful gypsy dancer. Barbara Knuth was the health spirit representing the Villa Park triangle. Pauline and Dorothy Glover gave an exhibition of tumbling.

The ceremonial was conducted by Miss Fern Sumner with the following girls taking part: Betty Adams, Doris Inge, Margaret Maroney, Dorothy Baker, Evelyn Myracle, Ruth Goode and Lucille Holman, Frances Carpenter and Janice Winget.

Work Exhibited
Aladdin was played by Mary Tom Cox and the salute and the Girl Reserve pledge were given with Betty Adams as the leader. The hand work of the girls was shown by several girls, hand woven scarfs, bags and tied and dyed scarfs forming a part of their costumes.

Girls were presented with pins and bracelets when awards were made. The bracelets of silver are to number four when this number has been earned and they are then to be fastened with a clasp with the blue triangle enameled on it.

Miss Agnes Shambaugh presented members of the seventh grade of the Intermediate school with awards, as follows: Eleanor Kolikhorst, Virginia Andrich, Betty Lenderman, Ruth Goode, Evelyn Johnson, Barbara Craemer, Mary Doyle, Opal Walters, Helen Talbot, Margaret Bottorff, Bobbie Burns and Mildred Kilgore.

Awarded Gifts
Mrs. Cal J. Lester presented girls of the sixth grade with awards. Joyce Crawford and Norma Perkins received special gifts for having made the best all around books on Girl Reserve activities. Evelyn Myracle and Betty Hobbs received special awards for the most original books. Betty's book was illustrated with original drawings and pen and ink sketches and Evelyn's with silhouettes.

Other girls in this group were Fern Barnes, Edna Bottorff, Norma Craft, Shirley Carter, Rachel Goode, Katherine Glanville, Lola Hutchins, Betty Hobbs, Doris Inge, Margaret Maroney, Mary Beth Niquest, Ruth Shaver, Bernice Williams, June Winget, Maybelle Payne, Lucille Chandler and Evelyn Myracle.

In closing the ceremonial the girls marched from the stage to the lobby forming a triangle as they marched. "Follow the Gleam" was the closing song.

Miss Compton Speaks
During the afternoon Miss Lavina Compton, newly elected secretary of the provisional board, was introduced and made a short talk. Miss Compton will take this position on her return from college this summer. Miss Fern Sumner, who has been secretary of the board since 1925, resigned this spring. Miss Compton was graduated from the Orange Union High school in 1928 and attended the Santa Ana Junior college for two years and has been at Occidental college, being assistant to the dean of women.

OLYMPIC IDEA CARRIED OUT IN STUDENT BOOK
ORANGE, June 6.—Handsome books bound in brown leather and edited in keeping with the Olympic theme were carried to all classrooms today by students of Orange Union High school, who were busy getting the pages of their annual publication, "Orange and White," filled with signatures of their fellow students.

The books came off the press late last week and were not distributed until Friday night following the benefit presentation of "The Private Secretary." Members of the staff succeeded in compiling a book complete in every detail and equal in quality to books of former years, despite the fact that they were working with smaller sums than usual.

Pauline Flint was editor of the book and Arnold Interf, the business manager. Mr. Cummings was the advisor.

As the Olympic idea was featured in the annual, students dedicated the book to Miss Helen Culp and Miss Grace Robertson, athletic instructors at the school. The dedication read, "Because they have made better sports of us and because they have helped to teach us to play the game fairly and squarely, because they have spent so much time and effort in making the gym demonstration a success and because they are friends of us all, we gladly dedicate this issue of the 1932 Orange and White to Helen Culp and Grace Robertson."

Modernistic drawings throughout the book emphasize the Olympic motif. They picture ice skaters, oarsmen, divers, swimmers, high jumpers and others.

The book is divided up into sections representing introduction, administration, classes, organizations, sports, sports and features. The introduction includes the title, dedication, salutation, foreword and theme. Administration includes the annual staff, pictures of buildings and teachers, office help and special teachers, and the student body greeting. Under classes are the pictures of the 119 graduating seniors and pictures of juniors, sophomores, freshmen and post graduates.

RATES FOR STUDENTS
BERLIN—College and university men now are able to ride on any of the German air transport lines of Lufthansa at special rates during August and September, vacation time. When seats are available students are carried at a fare equal to third class railway charge.

Piles Go Quick
Without Salves or Cutting
Itching, bleeding, protruding piles are caused by bad circulation of the blood in the affected parts. The parts become weak, flabby, almost dead. Only an internal remedy can remove the cause—that's why salves, suppositories and cutting fail. Dr. Leonhardt's prescription, HEM-ROID, succeeds because it removes congestion, restores circulation, heals and strengthens the diseased parts. HEM-ROID has such a wonderful record of quickly ending even piles of long standing, that McCoy Drug Co., says one bottle of HEM-ROID tablets must end your pile agony or money back—Adv.

FOUR TAKE OUT PAPERS IN RACE FOR SUPERVISOR

Thus far but four candidates for supervisorial posts at the primary election in August have taken out their nomination papers. Two of the candidates who have officially hurried their bids into the ring are from the first district and the remaining pair are contesting for the third district job.

William B. Martin, president of the Santa Ana Realty Board and secretary of the Santa Ana Kiwanis club has taken out his nomination papers for the first district post, and R. T. Dowden, also has filed from this district.

Saturday two candidates filed for the third district post, Herbert H. Oelke, Anaheim nurseryman and orange grower, secured his petition and was followed a short time later by W. J. Fullerton, real estate man and orange grower, who is taking the same position, and so formally announced his candidacy several days ago.

L. Z. McKinney, candidate for Democratic nomination for congressman from this district, has taken out his petition.

Church Leader Shower Honoree

LA HABRA, June 6.—When the members of the Woman's council gathered at the home of Mrs. G. L. Gordon the afternoon of June 2 Mrs. J. M. Cantwell, Sunday school superintendent for the Church of Christ and president of the Missionary society, thought the affair just the regular meeting of the council. She was surprised to find that this event was planned in her honor as a farewell party for her as she is leaving for a two months' visit with relatives in Colorado. She was presented with a handkerchief shower.

Present at this affair were Mrs. H. J. Livingston, Mrs. Viola Threlkeld, Mrs. M. H. Ryan, Mrs. John Upton, Mrs. E. Harper, Mrs. Dolle Morrison, Mrs. R. B. Ward, Mrs. J. W. Snaveley, Mrs. A. Speer, the honored guest and the hostess.

PADDLE WHEEL PLANE

WASHINGTON — One of the queerest planes ever seen is the "paddle wheel" craft, which is furnished its motive power by a pair of paddle wheels similar to those of an old river boat. The covering of the paddles are similar to birds' wings. When the paddle rises the covering of the wing opens. When it descends the covering closes and its "push" on the air produces a lift and forward movement.

SEEKS NEPHEW TO MAKE ESTATE CLAIM

An appeal for assistance in locating a Frank Miller, who, it is said, was placed in a Catholic school in Santa Ana, when he was nine or ten years old, was made today by Anna M. Schwallier, executive secretary of Orange County Catholic Welfare Bureau.

Search for the boy, now a young man of 21 or 22, has been launched by his "uncle Joe," Joe Frank Miller of 4200 North Marmona street, Chicago, to claim his share of an estate left by his father Tony or Antonio Miller, who died in Florida May 13, 1932, at the age of 45.

A search of records of Catholic schools in Santa Ana and Anaheim has failed to reveal any indication that the boy was ever registered in either of them by the name given, according to Mrs. Schwallier who now asks that anyone knowing of the young man communicate with her at once.

parents were married. The boy's father left his mother but the uncle does not know when or where they separated.

HONOR CLUB MEMBER

WESTMINSTER, June 6.—Mrs. Rosa Burke was honor guest at a meeting of the Young Matrons' club in the home of Mrs. May Finley on Westminster avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Burke and their two sons are leaving Sunday to motor through to their former home in Iowa where it is possible they may remain.

A cooked food sale to be held in the Westminster business district, June 15. The new president, Mrs. Idabelle Penhall, presided. One new member, Mrs. Lucille Wise, was received into the club at the meeting. The next meeting will be all day on the second Thursday in July.

Attending the club meeting and party were Mrs. Rose Burke, Mrs. Idabelle Penhall, Mrs. Grace Groves, Mrs. Alvaretta Campbell and daughter, Joyce, Mrs. Vera Skinner and daughter, Georgia Lee, Mrs. May Montgomery, Mrs. Loraine Edwards, Rolland Edwards, Mrs. Joyce Hemstreet, Howard Hemstreet, Mrs. Margaret Prindle, Mrs. Lucille Wise, Mrs. May Finley and daughter, Charlene.

The earliest anti-slavery paper was Freedman's Journal, founded in 1827.

Flowers Lovers Convene at H. B.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 6.—The Huntington Beach Garden club held its first meeting, since its organization, at Memorial hall Friday night, with an enthusiastic group of flower lovers and amateur gardeners attending.

Reports on the meeting of the Laguna Beach Garden club and the beautiful Snyder gardens at Laguna Beach, where the club meeting was held, were given by Mrs. J. K. McDonald and Mrs. C. W. Patrick. Mrs. Fern Burford, organizer and first president of the Laguna Beach club, was the principal speaker at the meeting of the Huntington Beach club. Leon Burford, son of Mrs. Fern Burford, played selections on his violin, with Mrs. Margaret Colvin playing the piano accompaniment.

An exchange of plants followed the evening's program.

Addresses Heard Yesterday In Santa Ana Churches

PASTOR AVERS GREED AT ROOT OF DEPRESSION

Dr. Floyd J. Seaman, Sunday evening, talked on the subject, "The People Amos Comes to Town." He said in part:

"The attitude that Christian people take today is, in a large measure, going to determine the destiny of this nation. We are face to face with appalling problems of crime, lawlessness, racketeering, and how indifferent we have been to it all. I heartily recommend the book of Amos to be read and received by all Christian people. This book will give hope and courage for the trying problems of this day."

"Amos you remember had spent much time in the presence of God, and to him God was behind the whole plan of things. Amos looked to the east and north to see that the Lord was already raising up the hordes which would destroy Palestine, and he also saw that this terrible day would be very uncomfortable for some of those who thought they were all right. He saw that swift destruction was going to be visited upon the greedy and avaricious."

"You remember that the ruling class of this country oppressed the poor, robbed the helpless, and sold their brethren into slavery. They had no regard for any form of righteousness or honesty, and those very ones who so corrupted their nation, attempted to cover it all by a costly show of religion. The Lord does not require great cathedrals, wonderfully vested choirs, beautiful music, or great preachers. I will tell you, though, what the Lord does require; He requires righteous living and honesty of heart."

"I notice the poster, 'Repeal the eighteenth amendment and bring back prosperity.' Can a man drink himself to wealth? The cheap propaganda of some newspapers regarding prohibition is ridiculous. The liquor interests have bought up many of the great newspapers and are prostituting them to publish wet propaganda."

"Such papers never stop to prove their statements regarding prohibition, but hurry on to create new stories that can be neither verified nor proven. The interests that will bring booze back will also damn your home, curse your boys and send them to a drunkard's grave for the purpose of greed. The return of booze will bring back prosperity to only one group of people and that group is the damnable liquor interests."

"Greed is a terrible thing, it walks undetected in the best of society, but its mark is a terrible scar on the human soul. St. Paul wisely said that the love of money is the root of all evil, and I tell you that the very souls of the American people are being sold by those who care nothing for morality, honesty, righteousness, or the will of God. If all professing Christians were alive to their Christian duties, this terrible mass of rebellion and lawlessness would not exist."

P-T. A. Arranges Anaheim Picnic

FULLERTON, June 6.—The third annual picnic of the Fullerton Union high school Parent-Teacher association is to be held Tuesday night at the Anaheim municipal park, according to announcement of Mrs. E. E. McClure, La Habra, president, and of Mrs. Edna Gendard, Atwood, secretary.

Parents and students of the eighth grades of the district are to be guests. All are requested to bring a basket lunch. Coffee will be provided.

This is the closing session of the year and besides dinner, games and a program, officers will be installed.

FRAILTIES, SHORTCOMINGS OF CHARACTERS IN BIBLE PROVES REALITY OF BOOK

"ONE OF THE strongest proofs that the Bible is real and the word of God, is the fact that the weaknesses, frailties, shortcomings and sins of the characters are told," said the Rev. U. E. Harding, who spoke yesterday to the Men's Community Bible class during the regular lesson hour at the Fox West Coast theater. "The bad things about the characters of the Bible aren't left out, as persons might be inclined to do in presenting a story from just one viewpoint."

PASTOR LINKS WORD OF GOD WITH SCIENCE

The scientific background of the Bible was explained yesterday in a sermon by the Rev. C. C. Houston, pastor of the South Side Church of Christ. His subject was "Some Bible Statements Scientific," and said in part:

"Science being classified knowledge, it is always something proven to be true. There is a difference between science and scientific opinion. There are many who hold to an opinion in science and call it their science. When the Bible speaks, while it is not written for science, the statements are found to be in harmony with science. Science seems to have established that the earth at the first was a fluid mass."

"The Bible taught that first; and darkness was upon the face of the deep or fluid mass. Here science agrees with the Bible. Science says in some way motion was imparted to this fluid mass; and the Bible explains saying: and the Spirit of God moved—and gave motion to—the deep or the fluid mass."

"Science does not know how the motion was imparted and does not explain. The Bible went farther and tells us how. At one time the supposed number of stars that were counted were a little more than a thousand and before the invention of the telescope not more than 185,000 had been counted and that was supposed to be all. The telescope has revealed 150,000 million and not all counted yet."

"The Bible stated a long time ago that the descendants of Abraham should be as numerous as the stars. Some thought the Bible wrong here but the telescope has shown the Bible right. How could the writers of the Bible know this so many years ago without the modern methods of finding. When the telescope was first pointed to the heavens there were stars in every direction but one space in the north. None there."

"The Bible says: 'He stretcheth out the horizon over empty space.' The infidel thought this statement wrong till the telescope has shown it to be true. And the puzzle is where did these writers get this knowledge so far in advance of what science is just now finding to be true? There is but one answer. It was God revealed."

"Many thought the earth flat and when it was proved to be round they thought the Bible far afield; but when we read in the book 'It is he that sitteth above the circle of the earth,' and in Prov. 8:27, 'When he setteth a circle upon the face of the deep,' we find again the Bible having made a statement as to the shape of the earth was correct and made a long time before it was found out in the world as a fact. Who made that known to Isaiah and Solomon?"

"Job says: 'He hangeth the earth upon nothing.' Job 26:7. The earth a sphere hanging out on nothing. These statements are absolutely correct as now proved by science."

"The Bible does not differ with true science. Where it states a scientific truth it is correct and it has taken science a long time to catch up. People used to think that this world was the center of the universe. Now it is known that there are many worlds and that one of the stars of the cluster of the Pleiades is the center of the universe."

"Job says: 'Can you bind the cluster—or chain—of the Pleiades or loose the bands of Orion?' This he said was revealed away back there where it was impossible to find out that this star was the hinge or center of all the vast solar systems and worlds."

"It is also revealed that God says of the son 'through whom he also made the worlds.' This was a statement in the plural form. Those who trust the Bible need not be carried about by every wind of doctrine of the science false so-called. The sure foundation of the Bible will undoubtedly stand these darts, and when the smoke has cleared away and left nothing but the naked truth of science it will no doubt be in harmony with the Bible, and it will then be established again as it has so often been, that God is the author of both the book of nature and the Bible."

"While the Bible is the word of God, it contains the words of sinners. So we want to be sure when we study the Bible, who is speaking and to whom the message is being addressed, for it is also addressed to many different classes of persons."

In commenting on the lesson of the day, which continued the study of the life of Joseph, the Rev. Mr. Harding stressed the fact that "As ye sow so shall ye reap." He referred to acts of Joseph's father Jacob, in deceiving his father in getting Esau's birthright and how Jacob was later deceived when he thought he was getting Rachel as his wife, and later deceived by his sons who told him Joseph, his favorite son, had disappeared and all they could find was his bloodstained coat.

"Joseph was a dreamer and an interpreter of dreams. The man who has no dreams of the future accomplishes nothing in the present. Joseph added his fellow prisoners and explained their dreams. Then they forgot him for two years after they got out of prison. They were seemingly afraid to be loyal to a prisoner."

"We're living in a day when we have lowered our moral standards to the place where we don't recognize sin. We need men of conviction like Joseph, who are willing to suffer to maintain their ideals."

A business meeting of the class was announced by E. A. Cox, president, for 7 p.m. tomorrow night at the office of the First Christian church.

Special music for the service yesterday morning consisted of vocal solos by Alice Grimshaw of Anaheim, who sang "Stars of the Night," "Friend of Mine" and "Hear My Prayer." Her selections were warmly applauded by the men.

S. A. ELKS TO GO TO PURPLE BUBBLE BALL

Heralded as one of the major activities of Elksdom during the year Elks from all over Southern California will gather at the Municipal Auditorium in Long Beach Saturday, June 18, to attend the Elks Purple Bubble Ball. Among prominent Elks to be present are District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler of California Scott Central District, Captain C. P. Wright, and State Vice Presidents E. R. Major of the Santa Ana lodge and C. P. Hebenstreit.

O. E. S. Picnic Is Set For July 8

ORANGE, June 6.—Mrs. E. J. Browne, North Tustin avenue, was hostess Friday afternoon to members of the Past Matrons' association of Scepter chapter, O. E. S., at the ranch home, 12 members being present.

Plans were made for a picnic which will be shared by past matrons and their husbands and by past patrons and their wives and which will be held July 8 at Irvine park.

At the close of the afternoon, which was spent at needlework, Mrs. Browne served dainty refreshments on trays carrying out a motif of pink and white in her appointments.

Those present other than the hostess were Mrs. Elsie Gillingly, Mrs. Dorothy Smith, Mrs. Doris Rose, Mrs. Mae Williams, of Santa Ana; Mrs. Lillian Bascom, of Santa Ana; Mrs. Anne Knuth, Mrs. Louise Bradshaw, Miss Edna Case, Mrs. Elizabeth Braizer, Mrs. May Dennis and Mrs. Clara Browne Handley.

PEACE AT LAST
MADUCA, Madras—From now until 1999 this old world will be the most peaceful place in the universe, according to predictions of Palani Swamikal, Indian seer who is attracting large crowds here. He says "the world is to enjoy peace and happiness for the next 67 years. He would not say what would happen in 1999, however."

PRAYER TOPIC FOR NAZARENE CHURCH TALK

A teacher of prayer, was the subject used by the Rev. G. E. Waddle at the Church of the Nazarene, Fifth and Patton street, Sunday morning. The text was taken from Luke 11:1, "Lord teach us to pray." The speaker said in part: "In this text we have an unnamed disciple seeking his way into the highest spiritual realm by prayer."

"Upon seeing Jesus, the great Teacher of Prayer, when he had finished praying, this disciple said, 'Lord teach us to pray.' He did not ask to be given power to walk on the water, or to raise the dead, or to heal the sick, as much as that might have been desirable; not even to preach great sermons, but to pray. Not the spectacular, but the thing that one can do best when no eye can see but the eye of Him that never slumbers or sleeps."

"This unnamed disciple saw the Master praying and he was moved with an all-consuming desire to likewise pray. Jesus was pre-eminently a man of prayer. The man of prayer will carry on his face the visible marks of his communion with God. After Moses had been on Mount Sinai with God in prayer, his face was radiant with the glory of the presence of God."

"John G. Paton in his autobiography, speaking of his father, says that every day he would spend a long time in prayer, and as children he and his brother would wonder at the beautiful light upon his face when he came forth from the place of prayer. So it was with Jesus. He would go upon the mountain, worn and exhausted with the cares of the day and after a sleepless night in prayer, he would come forth refreshed and peaceful."

"The disciples were able to discern the remarkable effects of prayer, as taught and exemplified by the great Teacher of prayer. Can anyone doubt that in this day of turmoil and unrest, when the whole world seems to be at sea for a solution to her problems, that we too may find rest and peace, if we will only come to the Master, and with importunate faith and trust, join this unnamed disciple in earnest plea, 'Lord teach us to pray.'"

Final Rehearsals Held by Cast Of 'Cappy Explains'

ORANGE, June 6.—Final rehearsals for their play, "Cappy Explains," to be presented next Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Colonial theater, are being held by members of the young people's department of the First Christian church. Proceeds from the production will be used to help defray the expense of sending delegates to the conference to be held in Idyllwild late this month.

Miss Thelma Dugan is directing the play. Members of the cast include Jack Rossier in the leading role as John Sterling; Leota Ingle, as Mrs. Ann Sterling; Thelma Dugan, as Dorothy Gray; Charles Spotts, as Cappy Collins; Rose Marie Wilson, as Olga, the Swedish maid; Randall Rivenes as Kent Leighman; Arnold Todd as Jerome Long; Ruby Wagner as Miss Patterson, the nurse; Burton Alloway as the eel, and Henry Miller as the detective.

Luncheon Held By Church Group

ORANGE, June 6.—Members of the Willing Workers' society held an all day meeting the past week in the home of Mrs. Rozalia Smith, North Shaffer street. A morning of sewing was brought to a close when a covered dish luncheon was served.

The afternoon session was opened with devotionals led by Mrs. E. M. Huffman, president of the group. The study of the book of Job was completed at this time.

Those present were Mesdames: Mercy Van Buren, Charles L. Grove, Frank Dollard, A. E. Barnett, A. J. Lee, Cora Schooley, Gladys McDonald, Lucy Robinson, Sara Gore, Margaret Smith, Eveline Robinson, Grace Deck, Martha Stone, Theodore Erickson, Nellie Brown, Blanche Campbell, Emma Gray, Emma Carlson, Sophia Lusk, J. A. Porter, Etta Huffman and Leland Hall, and the hostess, Mrs. Smith.

Mrs. J. A. Porter, Taft avenue, will be hostess at the next meeting on June 24.

IT'S AN ILL WIND
JUNEAU, Alaska—Brilliant sunshine, gentle winds and a balmy atmosphere cheered local crowds. But high up in the air aviators were hard put to it to keep from being blown into "kingdom come." Weather bureau tests revealed that a wind was blowing at the speed of 605 miles an hour at an altitude of 25,000 feet—the highest test ever made in Alaska.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"God the Only Cause and Creator" was the subject of the lesson-sermon yesterday at the Santa Ana First Church of Christ, Scientist. The golden text was from Revelation: "Thou art worthy, O Lord, to receive glory and honour and power; for thou hast created all things, and for thy pleasure they are and were created."

One of the Bible selections in the lesson-sermon included the verses from James: "Do not err, my beloved brethren. Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning. Of his own will he begat us with the word of truth, that we should be a kind of first fruits of his creatures."

A correlative passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, stated: "There is but one primal cause. Therefore there can be no effect from any other cause, and there can be no reality in aught which does not proceed from this great and only cause."

At a dinner in Fullerton recently, William Schumacher, for the past 20 years supervisor from the third district, announced his candidacy for election to succeed himself this year. Schumacher declared his intention to make his campaign on a platform demanding rigid economy in public office.

Other candidates for the post this year are W. T. Carmichael, of Fullerton, and H. Oelke, of Anaheim.

SCHUMACHER WILL MAKE RACE AGAIN

Dentists to Hold Convention in L.A.

Included in a delegation of Santa Ana dentists to the thirty-fifth annual convention of the Southern California State Dental association in Los Angeles next week will be Dr. V. A. Rossiter of this city, a member of the program-clinic committee of the association.

The convention will be held in the Los Angeles Biltmore hotel on June 13, 14 and 15, and arrangements have been made to accommodate 1000 visitors from the southern counties. Discussion of matters of great importance to the profession, addresses by dental and medical authorities, and an exhibit of the latest developments in dental apparatus will be featured during the three-day session.

Improvements At Store Being Made

Four workmen have been busy at Taylor's Cash Store, 405 West Fourth street, for the past week and are now putting finishing touches on improvements at the store.

Work which has been done includes moving the basement stairway from the center of the store to the rear, thus leaving more room for merchandise display. New display fixtures are being installed in the store today, according to J. W. Taylor, Jr.

Bridge Supper Held in Orange

ORANGE, June 6.—Dr. and Mrs. Henry C. Heuck, South Grand street, were guests of honor at a bridge supper, given by Dr. and Mrs. E. D. Pratt, 362 South Shaffer street, recently. Mrs. Pratt used quantities of summer blossoms in decorating her home and the delectable supper was served at the card tables following the game.

Dr. and Mrs. Heuck are leaving for a trip through the east and the former has been granted a furlough from his duties as naval surgeon at San Pedro. The honor guests were given a post card shower.

Scoring high was the host, Dr. Pratt and Mrs. George Niles, while low score was made by Dr. and Mrs. Heuck. Those present other than the honor guests were Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Bonebrake, Mr. and Mrs. George Niles, Mrs. Hazel Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. W. Perkins and the hosts, Dr. and Mrs. E. D. Pratt.

HOLD FAREWELL RECEPTION FOR MISSIONARIES

ORANGE, June 6.—Following last night's services at the First Presbyterian church, an informal reception was given as a farewell to Mr. and Mrs. Jay Davenport, who are leaving June 26 for their mission station at Caracas, Venezuela, having had a year's furlough. Together with their children, they have spent almost all of the year in Southern California, making their headquarters in Orange.

Members of the Women's Missionary society of the church had arranged the affair, which was presided over by Mrs. F. M. Gulick. Mrs. Ethel Niquette, president of the society, was unable to be present. Light refreshments were served from a prettily appointed table decked with flowers.

During their stay here, both Mr. and Mrs. Davenport have given addresses for various organizations. Mr. Davenport has just returned from a trip to the middle west, where he was on a speaking tour. Mrs. Davenport has given programs for various missionary societies of this city as well as Santa Ana and other places, and has given addresses for Santa Ana Ethel society sections. Many of these talks were illustrated with pictures and souvenirs from the far away country to which Mr. and Mrs. Davenport are returning.

Members of the church were interested in learning that Mr. and Mrs. Loren Hanna and family, of northern California, are leaving for their former mission station in Stam June 26, the same date the Davenports will sail. The local Presbyterian church makes it possible for Mr. and Mrs. Hanna to carry on their work by contributing a large annual sum.

CHURCH WOMEN SOCIETY THE HOME WEDDINGS FASHIONS HOUSEHOLD

Miss Dorothy Hurd Wedded to Texan In M. E. Chapel

At a quiet ceremony held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the beautiful little bride chapel of the First M. E. church, Miss Dorothy Hurd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Hurd, 709 Orange avenue, became the bride of Lanham K. Wells, formerly of Cleveland, Tex., but more recently of Beaumont, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Hurd were the only guests at the nuptial service which was read by the Rev. George A. Warner, pastor of the church, with Mr. Hurd giving his daughter in marriage.

Miss Hurd was beautifully costumed in turquoise blue in ensemble effect, worn with white dress accessories and with a shoulder corsage of pale pink bride roses to complete her effective appearance.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Wells left immediately after the ceremony for a honeymoon to be spent in Santa Barbara and other coastal cities, and upon their return will remain in Santa Ana for the summer months, with their future plans not yet completely formulated.

Preceding the afternoon wedding Mr. and Mrs. Hurd were hosts at a bridal luncheon at which the only guests were the Misses Ethel and Esther Coffmann, Mr. Wells' brother and sister-in-law. Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Wells of Beaumont, unable to be here for luncheon and wedding.

Mr. Wells has been with the Shell Oil company for the past five years as geologist and physicist. He has spent the past year with his brother, Samuel Wells, in Beaumont, and it was there that he and his bride first became acquainted while the latter was supervisor of music in the Beaumont schools, a position she has held for the past two years after majoring in music in her college course.

Miss Pope Honoree at Shower Affair in Wilson Home

Miss Phyllis Pope, whose betrothal to Roy Grisct was recently revealed, was further complimented at a shower given by Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Wilson and their daughter, Miss Grace Wilson, in their residence at 502 East Chestnut street Saturday night. Miss Pope and Mr. Grisct are to be wed on June 19.

Although the gifts presented the honoree were miscellaneous in character, hosts and hostesses contrived to adhere to a single theme, fairs of pink crepe paper flower pots being miniature replicas of the china sprinkling pot presented Miss Pope for scoring high at the game of hearts. Corsages, further emphasizing the party's floral aspect, were bestowed upon each guest.

A dessert course, heart-shaped in design, was served the guests, who derived special pleasure from the party, since it served as a means of reuniting a group of girls who have been friends since junior high school days. Miss Pope's marriage will represent the first in this group.

Gathered to fête Miss Pope were the honoree's mother, Mrs. Frank C. Pope, the Misses Virginia Pope, Roselline Schilling, Helen Shaw, Elizabeth Shaw, Margaret Taylor, Imogene McCauley, Eliza Venn, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Wilson and Miss Grace Wilson.

Gift Shower Honoree Tells Wedding News To Her Guests

When Mrs. Frank Quiggle invited a group of friends of her daughter to an afternoon of cards, in their South Van Ness avenue home, the guests were all convinced that they were to be told the engagement and chosen wedding date of Miss Frances Quiggle and Fayette Blower. Instead, they were informed of the April wedding of the young couple, although this announcement was preceded by a lively afternoon of hearts.

Parchment tallies bore dainty flower girls, and were utilized for recording scores in the game. That of Mrs. Nissen of Pasadena was highest, with Mrs. Eleanor Boyer as a close opponent. To them were presented the pretty prizes of an etched glass sugar and cream set in amber, and an etched cake dish in the same color, and general designs. Consolation gift was presented Mrs. Ada Knott.

Interrupting the game at one point, was the arrival of a great box of American Beauty roses, the gift of Mr. Blower to the honoree of the afternoon.

At the refreshment hour the card tables were spread with pretty linens, and each was centered with a bud vase holding a single perfect rose and a spray of maidenhair fern. At each place was a dainty doll figure holding a pink parasol from beneath which peeped a saucy Cupid. When these parasols were lifted, the guests learned that the wedding of Miss Quiggle and Mr. Blower had occurred on April 23 and that the party was given for a bride rather than for an engaged girl.

The serving of the tea menu of salad, hot rolls, cake, ices, tea and coffee, was to the accompaniment of happy wishes for the April bride, one of whose privileges it was to cut the handsome wedding cake, baked and decorated appropriately by her mother.

Mrs. Quiggle was assisted in serving and in various hostess duties by Mrs. Backman, Mrs. Woodlawn, Mrs. Delbert Blower, Miss Dorothy Boyd and Mrs. Hancock, a bride of St. Valentine's day.

In view of the fact that the honoree was already married, the presentation of an array of lovely gifts from her assembled friends was a double enjoyable finale to the afternoon. These gifts were arranged in a large basket, and her delighted examination of each in turn proved that all had been chosen with her future home in mind.

Among the guests invited to share the pleasant event were Mrs. Phillip Blower, Mrs. Elbert Blower, Mrs. E. O. Bachman, Mrs. Richard Hancock (Virginia Cragin), the Misses Virginia Roberts, Harriett Morris, Frances Birtcher, Dorothy Boyd, Charlotte Quiggle and Margaret Finley of Santa Ana; Mrs. Nissen of Pasadena; Mrs. Ada Knott, Mrs. Y. V. Robertson and Miss Erdine Robertson, Los Angeles; Mrs. A. E. Woodlawn, Ontario; Mrs. L. B. Dunprey, San Bernardino; Miss Pauline Greer and Miss Dorothy Quiggle, Huntington Beach; the Misses Leola Tannehill, Georgia Rios, Eleanor Boyer and Ellen Lashell, Orange; Mrs. Mildred Morilla, the Misses Mary DuBois and Opal Haddock, Laguna Beach.

Friday Afternoon Club Meets With Mrs. Reed For Luncheon

An afternoon of cards was enjoyed last week by members of the Friday Afternoon club, who were guests of Mrs. E. C. Reed in her home, 611 South Flamingo street. A delicious two-course luncheon was served preceding the play, with many seasonal bouquets providing a floral setting for the occasion. High score at bridge was held by Mrs. Eugene Reif, while Mrs. J. H. Turton and Mrs. J. L. McBride scored second and third high. Those present were Mesdames Lee Boyle, J. A. Wright, J. H. Turton, George Cocking, Roy Gowdy, A. W. Sanford, J. L. McBride, Eugene Reif, W. W. Lays, E. J. Belver and a special guest, Mrs. Guy Belcher, and the hostess, Mrs. Reed.

Ebell Juniors Plan Final Assembly

Members of the Junior Ebell society will select officers for the coming year at their final meeting of this season, to be held Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock in the Ebell lounge. A report will be heard at that time from the nominating committee and nominations will be offered from the floor.

Owing to inability to procure the several junior department heads residing in Southern California as speakers at Tuesday's meeting, the joint session which was to have been held with the Girls Ebell society has been abandoned and the junior club will meet alone. Activities of the past year will be reviewed and plans for the ensuing term proposed at this last meeting, which will be concluded with refreshments which officers of the club will serve, with the social committee.

Miscellaneous Shower Is Compliment to Miss Wolford

As the date selected by Miss Evangeline Wolford for her wedding to Daniel Jerry of Greenville, gradually drew nearer, Miss Wolford is finding herself the guest of honor at various happily planned affairs, the latest of which was a surprise gift shower in connection with an evening of bridge given Friday night by the Misses Mamie and Estella Roelands, 610 East Third street.

Miss Wolford's presence in their home was secured upon some pretext, and she was amazed to find an assemblage of friends and everything in readiness for an evening of bridge. The games were soon underway, and when tallies were scored, the prize of a lovely picture was awarded Mrs. Florian Eickholt for high score while a vari-colored sponge ball consoled Mrs. Charles Wolford.

While the tables were being prepared for serving refreshments, the guests devoted their attention to costuming clothespin brides, and to Miss Lillie Schultz, with the most artistic model, was presented a dainty doll bridesmaid.

A pink and green color scheme was employed in table appointments, and at the place of the honoree, Miss Wolford, was a miniature altar in duplicate of the one where she and Mr. Jerry will exchange vows later in June. Seated at her left was her maid of honor, Miss Estella Roelands, while on her right were the two bridesmaids, Miss Helen Benthien and Miss Gladys McDonald. Doll favors at their places were gown-wed in the same colors which they will wear as bridal attendants.

Place cards for the remaining guests were tiny candlesticks of candies holding wee pink tapers and attached to cards whereon names were traced in gold letters. A large pink and green basket seemingly filled with delicate, hued sweet peas, centered the table, but when Miss Wolford drew in the green garland that led from her place to the basket, accompanying the amusing balloon favor such as other guests drew forth, was a card telling of good wishes conveyed in the packages resting beneath the flowers.

After the menu of fruit jello with whipped cream, pink iced orange sponge cake and coffee had been served, the guests enjoyed watching Miss Wolford open these packages, all of which contained gifts for her future home.

Those enjoying the hospitality of the Misses Roelands, were their honor guest and her fiancé, Miss Wolford and Mr. Jerry; the Misses Mary Arambell and Mary Eriert of Orange; Irene Schoolmeesters, Helen Benthien, Gladys McDonald and Lillie Schultz; Mrs. Florian Eickholt of Anaheim; Mrs. May Ragan, Mrs. E. A. Luke, Mrs. Charles Wolford and Mrs. C. Roelands and Richard Wolford of Detroit, Mich.

Auxiliary Drill Team Introduces Novel Party Idea

In seeking to raise funds for the purchase of uniforms, members of the drill team of the American Legion auxiliary adopted a clever plan when they presented a group of card parties last Friday evening.

Mrs. Ann Leimer and Mrs. Myrtle Swarthout were hostesses at one of these affairs. In the home of Mrs. Leimer, 702 Hickory street. At the same time that their guests were joining in the exciting bridge contests, similar games were in progress in the Anderson home, 309 McFadden street, with Mrs. Ruth Anderson and Mrs. Mabel Thatcher as hostesses; in the Sandon home, 903 Garfield street, with Mrs. Tona Sandon and Mrs. Post entertaining; in the Inhoff home, 815 South Ross street, with Mrs. Evelyn Inhoff and Mrs. Roseann Hardcastle as hostesses, and in the Sullivan home, 726 Orange avenue, where Mrs. Frances Sullivan, drill team captain, greeted guests.

Each party produced its own prize winners whose scores were rewarded by the various hostesses with prizes which they had selected. After these had been presented, all five groups congregated in Legion hall where remaining members of the drill team were in readiness to serve refreshments of fruit salad, hot rolls and coffee.

A brief program featured Master Junior Kavanagh in dances and Mrs. Marguerite Wilson in several clever readings. The general door prize, presented at this time, went to Mrs. Jules Markel, and after it had been admired the guests, approximately 150 in number, devoted the remainder of the evening to dancing.

You and your Friends

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Fritcher and children, June and Lester Jr., of Sunnyside Gardens, left today for Mono Lake, near Bishop, where they will spend the next two months.

Mrs. Jay C. Hamill, her daughters, the Misses Maurie and Marilyn Hamill, and her mother, Mrs. Amelia Caswell, were visitors in Los Angeles this week end.

Gerald Matthews, with his mother, Mrs. Leland Matthews, returned to his home in Colton yesterday following a stay in the home of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Wilson of 832 East Eleventh street.

Mr. Matthews, who was a victim of a recent accident and was confined for ten days in the St. Joseph hospital, undergoing treatment, was reported fully recovered from his injuries. He was a house guest in the White home for another ten days after leaving the hospital, while his mother shared the Whites' hospitality during the entire period of her son's illness.

Miss Melbie Matheny, formerly of Riverline avenue, is now located at 501 Wellington avenue where she will welcome her friends.

Mrs. Lyman Nelson and her sister, Mrs. Roy Yoder, were back at their duties today. Mrs. Nelson at the Rankin store and Mrs. Yoder at the Currie Ice Cream company, after a four-weeks' trip to their former home, Alva, Okla. They traveled by automobile, and were joined in Dallas, Tex., by their brother, Herman Hammerstead, who enjoyed the visit with them.

Miss Evelyn Scherbert of the Rankin store staff, has returned from a vacation visit in Santa Barbara.

Junior Lions Present Dinner Dance for Guest Group

The Doris-Kathryn Tea Shoppe was chosen as the setting for the second semi-annual dance given by members of the Junior Lions as a compliment to their guests last Friday evening. Dinner was served at 7 o'clock, and tables were decorated with colorful snapdragons, for the delectable four course menu.

Martin Bowman, president, extended a welcome to members, while Jack Gould favored with several piano selections. Following the dinner hour the group adjourned to the Rendezvous ballroom at Balboa, where loges had been reserved for them.

Those present were the Misses Lorna Allen, Nelle Grafton, June Thompson, Frances Bowman, Eugenia Gire, Alice Martin, Evelyn Fairley, Mary Frances Dayton, Ruth Miller, Evelyn Marshall, Lois Brown, Alma McClain, Dorothy Dennis, Lucille Harper and Ernestine Wakeham.

Santa Ana Chosen Vice President Of District

Mrs. C. W. Burns of Santa Ana was chosen to serve as one of the four vice presidents of the San Diego district of Home Missionary church at the annual district meeting held at the Garden Grove First Methodist church Friday. Mrs. Burns will have charge of the work of Orange county which is carried on by this official.

Mrs. James McCloskey, of Fullerton, was selected to the office of district president. Mrs. E. S. Williamson, of Anaheim, was elected honorary president; Mrs. LeRoy Graham, also of Anaheim, was elected corresponding secretary; Mrs. F. R. Fitz, of Garden Grove, recording secretary, and Mrs. W. B. Payton, of Riverdale, treasurer.

Mrs. Burns takes the place of Mrs. Harry C. Chapman, who served as vice president of Orange county last year. Mrs. Chapman gave the address of the morning session and Mrs. M. M. Northrup, national field secretary, and Mrs. L. P. Sedgwick, of Long Beach, the addresses of the afternoon. Luncheon was served at noon and the devotional service was given by the Rev. Floyd Seaman, pastor of the Garden Grove Methodist church.

Announcement Made Of Quiet Yuma Wedding

The many friends of R. McDonald, son of Mrs. Bessie McDonald, 635 North Van Ness avenue, will be interested to know of his marriage to Miss Elsie Chapman of Iowa, which took place Friday, May 27, in Yuma, Ariz.

The wedding culminated a romance which started last summer when Miss Chapman was visiting relatives in Laguna Beach. Upon her return from Iowa last week, she was met by her fiancé in Yuma where the quintristes were performed. The young couple immediately returned by automobile to Laguna, where Mr. McDonald has a pretty home for his bride. He is manager of a Union Oil station.

A pretty compliment was paid to newlyweds Friday evening when Mrs. Otto Jacobs, a sister of the bridegroom, entertained at a bridal dinner in her home, 2214 Greenleaf street. The table was appointed in summer flowers in tints of pink, while the elaborate wedding cake was also in pink.

Relatives of the young couple present included the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Jacobs and son, Bobby, Mr. and Mrs. Don McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Howard McDonald and their daughter, Shirley, and son, Bobby, Mrs. Bessie McDonald, and the honored guests, Mr. and Mrs. R. McDonald.

Engagement Announced At Crystal Shower For Recent Bride

Assembling a group of friends Saturday in their home, 502 East Pine street to honor Mrs. Hugh Tolley (Betty Hoy), Mrs. Nell D. Winslow and her daughter, Miss Lois Winslow made the occasion doubly romantic by announcing Miss Winslow's engagement and approaching marriage to Ray Klumb of Colton.

Although Miss Hoy's marriage to Mr. Tolley took place over two years ago, announcement of the event was not made until recently. The hostesses had planned the affair as a crystal shower for her, and many were the lovely pieces received from the assembled group. All of the gifts were in the La France pattern which the honoree had selected.

The announcement of Miss Winslow's engagement to Mr. Klumb was made during the refreshment hour at the conclusion of the afternoon, when tables were appointed in pastel tints. Colorful nut cups were given a true summer touch by vivid small butterflies which rose from them, bearing on their wings the names of the young couple and the date of September 17. Clusters of begonias and maidenhair fern were centerpiece.

Other flowers used in decorating were gladioluses, Canterbury bells and Scotch broom, arranged in attractive bouquets throughout the rooms. During the early part of the afternoon, bridge was played. There were prizes for all, with high scorers making their choice of the fascinating packages.

Those sharing the happy occasion with Miss Winslow and Mr. Winslow were Mrs. Hugh Tolley, Mrs. W. W. Hoy, Mrs. Don Park, Miss Wilma Hoy, Miss Thelma Gerard, Miss Jessie Scott, of Santa Ana; Miss Muriel Smith, Orange; Miss Edythe Lewis, Ontario; Miss Dorothy De Vries, Los Angeles; Mrs. J. R. Smith, La Habra; Mrs. Howard Frazee, Long Beach.

Miss Winslow has been teaching at Jefferson and Wilson schools, where she is physical education instructor. She is a graduate of Santa Ana high school, and attended junior college here for one year. She received her degree at the University of California.

Mr. Klumb was formerly of Olympia, Wash., and now is employed at Colton with the Southern California Edison company.

The wedding culminated a romance which started last summer when Miss Chapman was visiting relatives in Laguna Beach. Upon her return from Iowa last week, she was met by her fiancé in Yuma where the quintristes were performed. The young couple immediately returned by automobile to Laguna, where Mr. McDonald has a pretty home for his bride. He is manager of a Union Oil station.

A pretty compliment was paid to newlyweds Friday evening when Mrs. Otto Jacobs, a sister of the bridegroom, entertained at a bridal dinner in her home, 2214 Greenleaf street. The table was appointed in summer flowers in tints of pink, while the elaborate wedding cake was also in pink.

Relatives of the young couple present included the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Jacobs and son, Bobby, Mr. and Mrs. Don McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Howard McDonald and their daughter, Shirley, and son, Bobby, Mrs. Bessie McDonald, and the honored guests, Mr. and Mrs. R. McDonald.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

The Missionary society of the First Christian church will meet Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the community house. The president, Mrs. J. C. Nichols, has asked that all members be present, as this will be the last meeting of the year. The Dorcas club of the church will arrange the program.

The Senior Guild of the Church of the Messiah will have a benefit card party tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock in the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Reeves Aylmore, 2415 Riverside drive. Mrs. Harry Spencer and Mrs. James L. Allen will be assisting hostesses. All interested are invited to attend.

The St. Elizabeth's Guild of the Church of the Messiah will have a regular meeting Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the home of Mrs. M. L. Keeler, 320 East Chestnut street. Members who have not returned their united thank offering are requested to do so at this meeting.

The postponed meeting of the Senior Guild of the Church of the Messiah will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the church rooms. This will be the last session before vacation, and a large attendance is expected. United thank offerings are to be turned in at this meeting.

The W. D. Mater Bible class of the First Presbyterian church will have a covered-dish supper and social tomorrow evening at 6 o'clock in the church. Those attending are to bring their own table service, sandwiches and a covered-dish. Coffee, cream and sugar will be furnished. All members of the class, together with their husbands and wives, are urged to attend.

Santa Ana parlor No. 265, Native Sons of the Golden West, at its meeting tonight at 8 o'clock in Knights of Columbus hall, will hold the annual election of officers for the new club year. In addition to this feature will be reports on the Grand Parlor recently in session in Stockton, offered by men who attended as delegates from Santa Ana parlor.

The Fifth Household Economics section of Ebell will hold its last party of the club year in the beach home of Mrs. C. J. Klatt at 108 Eighth street, East Newport, Tuesday, June 14, when half of the section will entertain the other half at an affair which will include swimming in the morning, for those caring to participate; a luncheon at 12:30 o'clock, and cards in the afternoon. Those unable to attend are asked to notify one of the entertaining committee, which includes Mesdames George Chapman, leader; C. J. Klatt, J. W. Rice, H. C. Kirk, Charles Artz, Floyd Spencer, Herbert Krahling, F. F. Mead, George Raymer, E. C. Diehl, E. H. Guthrie, Paul Bailey, J. H. Lipplatt and L. E. Allen.

The Lincoln School club will conclude a year of interesting meetings tonight when members meet at 7:30 o'clock in the school kindergarten room. The high sixth grade will have charge of the program which will feature the school orchestra; song by sixth grade girls; tap dance by Doris Morilla; recitation by George Hyde; piano solo by Geraldine Weir, and a playlet, "Help Save the Trees." All parents of Lincoln school children are invited to be present.

The Correct Speaking group of Ebell will hold its final meeting of the year in Ebell lounge Wednesday at 10 o'clock. The meeting will follow that of the leaders' section at 9:30 o'clock. All newly elected section leaders are invited to be present at both sessions. Opportunity will be afforded the new leaders of meeting the new curator, Mrs. W. Maxwell Burke. Each person attending the correct speaking group session is asked to come prepared with a current event.

Harmony Bridge club members were reminded today of the luncheon which they will share tomorrow at 12:30 o'clock in the Green Cat cafe, as guests of Mrs. Nellie Young and Mrs. Sue Henry. Following luncheon they will repair to the Masonic temple for an afternoon of bridge.

SHE WANTED SNOWY WASHES — by C.A. Voight

I SEE YOUR NEW WASHER HAS COME

YES, I CAN HARDLY WAIT TO TRY IT

WELL, SYLVIA, HOW DOES YOUR WASHER WORK?

IT WORKS ALL RIGHT, PHIL—BUT MY WASH ISN'T NEARLY AS WHITE AS I THOUGHT IT WOULD BE. I'M DISAPPOINTED

DID YOU USE THAT SOAP THE SALESMAN TOLD YOU ABOUT?

RINSO, YOU MEAN? NO, I USED SOME SOAP I HAD IN THE HOUSE. BUT I'LL TRY RINSO NEXT TIME

NEXT WASHDAY

WHAT THICK SOAPY SUDS A LITTLE RINSO MAKES IN THIS HARD WATER

NEXT MORNING

I SEE YOU HAD BETTER LUCK WITH YOUR WASHER THIS WEEK, SYLVIA. THIS OLD SHIRT LOOKS LIKE NEW

IT'S THE SUDS THAT MAKE THE DIFFERENCE. RINSO WASHES CLOTHES THE WHITEST I'VE EVER SEEN!

"It's so economical!" says Mrs. Herman Gehrke, Ranier, Wash.

Rinso is wonderful. I use nothing else in my washing machine and I never rub nice. It's so economical, too. With one big package I washed—

1 bed spread
7 bureau scarfs
6 dollies
24 napkins
18 pillow cases
11 sheets
5 table-cloths
15 towels
32 dish towels

20 handkerchiefs
23 children's dresses
13 nightgowns
13 overalls and boys' pants
14 pairs children's stockings
12 pairs children's underwear
2 men's nightshirts
1 pair overalls

4 shirts
4 pairs socks
5 pairs men's undershirts
6 pairs men's underwear
5 dresses
2 high gowns
20 boys' clothes

"In addition to that I scrubbed my floor with Rinso twice and did the dishes after 59 meals."

Rinso gives thick suds even in hardest water. Try Rinso. See how much work one big box will do for you.

FUN FOR THE WHOLE FAMILY

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

"My goodness," shouted Duncy, when the rocket seemed to jump again. "I think this is the fastest trip that we have ever had."

"In planes we've whizzed out through the air, but from them never got a scare. This rocket rather frightens me. When we land I'll be glad."

"Oh, there you go," said Scouty. "You are always trying to make us blue. I'm sure that we will be all right. If we just rest at ease."

"We're sailing onward very fast. 'Course I don't know how long 'twill last, but anyway, I hardly think we'll topple in the trees."

By this time they were out of sight of land, and every Tiny-mite was wondering what would come next. Then Coppy loudly cried:

"Oh, look! A rain cloud's drawing near. We'll crash right through the thing. I fear. The rocket will get wet, but we're all safe 'cause we're inside."

And then they sailed right through the cloud. It scared the little Tiny crowd. But, in an instant they were back into the broad daylight.

"Oh, my," said Windy. "What a scare, when we went in and out of there. And yet there was no use to fret, 'cause we are quite all right!"

A moment later, with a frown, wee Duncy said, "We're heading down. Yes, sir, we're going toward the earth. I wonder where we'll land?"

"I hope a hay stack is below. We'll land in safety there, I know. Right now we're going down too fast. It's very hard to stand."

It wasn't very long until a big bump stopped their rocket thrill. The rocket stopped real suddenly. "We're on a tent," cried one.

And he was right. The rocket spent its speed upon a circus tent. Said Scouty, as they all climbed out, "Here's where we have some fun!"

(The Tinies are put to work in the next story.)

42 PUPILS IN BEACH CITY TO GET DIPLOMAS

LAGUNA BEACH, June 6.—The Laguna Beach Volunteer Fire company will be held Wednesday evening at the Cabrillo ballroom, use of which has been donated for the evening by Messrs. Brown and Farrell.

The Rev. Robert M. Hogarth will deliver the graduation oration. For the first time in the history of the school there will be no valedictorian or salutatorian, but in his presentation of the class C. Addison Van Loenen, eighth grade teacher, will give credit to those pupils who have done the most meritorious work during the year.

The program follows: School orchestra, "Sweet and Low," Barnby, "Old South," Zamenick; invocation, the Rev. Raymond I. Brahams, pastor of Community Presbyterian church; opening remarks, Supt. George K. Bingham; Girls' Glee club, "Amaryllis," address, the Rev. Robert M. Hogarth; eighth grade orchestra, Enid Benton, Evangeline Piety, Merle Swingle, Orrin Robbins, Billy Schloesser, and Kenneth Nosler, "The Old Refrain," Kreiser; presentation of awards, C. Addison Van Loenen; presentation of class art to school, George Riddick, class president; "Whispering Hope," Merle Swingle, Beverly Wilbur, Enid Benton, and Evangeline Piety; presentation of class, C. Addison Van Loenen; presentation of diplomas, Mrs. A. B. Collins, president of school board; "Sailor Song," graduating class.

G. B. Dunham, clerk, and Frederick Walker, the other member of the school board, will be special guests, as will Mrs. Lauretta Chilton, music director, and Miss Josephine Hills, orchestra leader. The class colors are blue and silver and the class motto, "Work today for tomorrow never comes."

Following is the roster of the class:

Enid Benton, Beverly Bishop, Marjory Blakeney, Harold Brown, Hazel Collins, Margaret Gerber, Mary Gomez, Maxine Haynes, Alice Johnson, Robert Johnson, Charles Linkins, Pollyanna Light, Viola Linkins, Robert Millings, Kenneth Nosler, Helen Parry, Virginia Penouille, Evangeline Piety, Barbara Reed, Marie Reed, George Roddell, Orrin Robbins, Howard Sander, Billy Schloesser, Roy Seeman, Lucille Shaw, Robert Smith, Bernard Smith, Vera Stockton, June Storey, Clive Strangman, Merle Swingle, Day Tawney, Robert Thompson, James Thompson, Thelma Valhoff, Beverly Wilbur, June Wilson, Merle Worth, Pearl Worth.

The following Laguna Beach pupils will be graduated June 17 from Tustin High school:

Joseph Barnett, Dean Benton, Mary Elizabeth Crandall, Garold Downing, Bruce Handy, Sharpless Hickman, Edward Hobart, Blanche Hingeworth, Frances McLaughlin, Grace Numan, Beatrice Rhodes, Alice Smith, James Smith, Elmer Stevenson, Velda Worthy and Marion Walden.

Heights Group In New Organization

LA HABRA, June 6.—The La Habra Heights Improvement association was made a permanent organization when 125 residents and property owners of the La Habra Heights District met for a dinner at the Hacienda Country club.

The purpose of the organization is to form a closer acquaintance and cooperation with the residents and property owners of this district toward the handling of improvements, beautification of the district and the solving of problems pertinent to that location. The social side of the organization is cared for in the plans made.

Officers chosen for this organization are the same as those selected at the preliminary meeting held about four months ago, when property owners gathered to discuss assessments and taxation matters. J. W. Shafer is president, H. C. Smith, vice president; Tom Ingersoll, secretary; George Soule, assistant secretary, and A. V. Douglass, treasurer.

PUPILS WIN GAME

LA HABRA, June 6.—The annual baseball tussle between the La Habra eighth grade team and the school faculty resulted in a victory for the eighth grades by a score of 12 to 6.

The game was held immediately following the afternoon classes. Playing on the faculty team were Supt. E. R. Berry, Principal Joe Severns, Trustees N. M. Launer, Ben Roberts and L. H. Brewer, R. O. Wright, athletic coach; E. E. Wied, trustee officer; Albert Toy, manual training teacher, and Alex Forbus.

Annual Benefit Of L. B. Firemen Held Wednesday

LAGUNA BEACH, June 6.—The seventh annual benefit ball of the Laguna Beach Volunteer Fire company will be held Wednesday evening at the Cabrillo ballroom, use of which has been donated for the evening by Messrs. Brown and Farrell.

Chief P. J. Bushman, in a statement issued today, asked the citizens of Laguna Beach to show their appreciation for the work done by the firemen during the year by attending the dance. The proceeds of the ball will go toward providing equipment for the men not supplied by the city.

Jack McLaughlin, chairman of the ball committee, has announced that special prizes will be given. Penny's orchestra will play for the dances.

PASTOR CITES CIVILIZATION'S FOUR MENACES

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 6.—The county executive committee of the W. C. T. U. held an all-day session at the First Baptist church in this city Friday with an address by the Rev. Grover R. Ralston, pastor of the Methodist church, of Yorba Linda, featuring the afternoon session.

The Rev. Mr. Ralston talked on law enforcement and also dwelt on political topics and conditions under the 18th amendment. He held that the 18th amendment was not at fault, but that its enemies had made long continued attacks upon it and had spread corruption in defiance of the law, taking advantage of lax enforcement.

The Rev. Ralston characterized the four menaces to civilization as "pestilence, famine, war and liquor." He said that when the 18th amendment was adopted he made a statement that its enemies would never cease to fight for its revocation and that the W. C. T. U. must keep ever vigilant in order to preserve it. He said the opponents of prohibition would declare it to be a policy forced on the nation by long faced old preachers and middle-aged old women. He said that the people believed then that as prohibition had become part of the constitution of the nation, it never could be changed. He said his predictions were now being fulfilled and that the fight on the 18th amendment was growing fiercer each year.

Criticizing the congress and government policies, the Rev. Mr. Ralston challenged the wisdom in building the Akron, giant dirigible. "This Akron cost six million dollars," he said, "and is not worth six cents to the people. They spent six million dollars for the Akron when there are millions of idle men and hungry people." His remarks on the Akron evoked an outburst of applause.

The pastor also criticized the distribution system of the nation as unfair to the people. He said that the finest lambs ever reared in the state of Nevada were playing on Nevada hills and meadows and were for sale at 50 cents each, many thousands of them, and no buyers to be found.

"But lamb chops in Reno cost $2.50 a plate served at the cafes," he said.

New Honors For Post, Auxiliary

SAN CLEMENTE, June 6.—Members of the American Legion post No. 331, and the auxiliary established one of the state mobilization records Sunday, when the state emergency call was issued at 9 o'clock in the morning. Of the 16 Legion members, 14 reported at the Spanish village fire hall within a few minutes. Of the two men absent one, Tom Guderian was out of town on business. Dee Wolfe, the other absent member, was a week end guest of friends at Newport Beach.

The auxiliary of 14 members had 13 report in less time than last year when the auxiliary won state honors for its efficiency in mobilizing. The absent member was Mrs. Helen Wolfe.

C. J. Sanborn, member of the San Clemente post, who resides in Huntington Beach, came to the Spanish village to register on the state call. Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Kimball, members of Arthur L. Peterson post No. 27 and auxiliary of Long Beach, registered here.

There were 17 divorces to every 100 marriages in the United States during 1930.

SERVICE BANQUET HELD BY STUDENTS

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 6.—The annual distinguished service banquet of the Huntington Beach Union High school was held at the school cafeteria Friday night, with 75 students and faculty members present. The program of the year was entirely a student affair, with no students responding to toasts.

Ray Dugan of the school faculty was toastmaster. Miss Vivian Reeves talked on "Scholarship" and Miss Reeves as salutatorian of the class and Arthur Frost as valedictorian, were awarded pins emblematic of the honors they attained. Richard Williams responded to the toast, "Familiarities and Frenzies," and Lloyd Hammen of the faculty presented the awards in this department. Dorothy Prescott responded to the toast for the music department and Rose Rogers talked on the Girls' Athletic association. George Farquhar discussed boys' athletics for the year. Miss Zoe Quigley responded to the toast "The Girls' League," of which she is president.

Arthur Frost discussed "The Cauldron," high school annual. Cleo Smith responded to the toast, "Student Government," Vice Principal Ray Elliott making the awards.

REV. HUNTER IN TALK ON 'SPIRES ON WORLD'S RIM'

FULLERTON, June 6.—"To those of you who have burdens and sufferings at the present time, it is recommended that you take a half hour to read and study the writings of Apostle Paul in the eighth chapter of Romans for new spirit and hope," the Rev. Graham C. Hunter, pastor of the Presbyterian church, told members of his congregation at the Sunday morning service. The topic of the sermon was "Spires on the World's Rim" taken from a phrase from the poem by John Massfield.

The Rev. Mr. Hunter told of the Biblical character who had sought knowledge and when found, he did not know how to use it; when he had sought wealth and riches it had disappeared even as today and that as a seeker of truth, he had found it in only faith. A second thought came to him that there was something in the human heart that was not God had put something in the heart that could not be reached by faith and wealth and knowledge and that this was love and eternity.

This quality, the Rev. Mr. Hunter said, was the durable satisfaction of life.

"It is not what you do—it's what you are loyal to that counts," he said. "Nor is what you have done in life that counts; but rather what you have tried to do. It is these things that represent life." He recounted the experience of the former pastor and editor who had written a letter to a Wisconsin professor who professed no belief in God. The man had stated that he was suffering from deafness, but he had lost all of his worldly possessions and that his wife had died. He had asked the professor in the letter if there was no religion and no faith, was he then to consider the death of his wife as the same as the death of a horse? Was there then no hope?

He spoke about the desperate hard winter that many of the people had experienced and of the heavy burdens that they had been compelled to carry. He told of the trials and tribulations of the Apostle Paul—who had no home, no friends, nor any children to share his sorrows and spent his time in exile and prison; but that notwithstanding he had that faith and spirit that carried him on.

To those of you who are discouraged with the uncertainties of the present time, you ask, what is left? He answered: "There is faith and with faith you have something worth while."

Award Badges At Session La Habra Girl Scout Troop

LA HABRA, June 6.—Closing the Girl Scout year for the summer months, girls of the Lincoln Scout troop held a potluck supper recently at the local Scout hall. No organized meetings will be held during the summer months but it is planned to hold patrol meetings at which time the girls will be assisted by Mrs. Jesse D. Hayden, Americanization teacher, in handicraft and basket making.

Tenderfoot badges were awarded to Leah Adele Knisley, Nellie Mae Johnson received a second class badge and a scholarship badge; Lois Journean, second class badge; Ruth Ann McBride and Betty Berry received badges for scholarship and home nursing.

Those attending the dinner were the honored guests, Mrs. Eleanor Sternberg and Mrs. A. L. Treff, leaders with Mrs. N. M. Launer, leader of all the scout troops in La Habra, and Lillie Anderson, Freda Baker, Ellen and Gertrude Barber, Betty Berry, Leota Fletcher, Nellie Mae Johnson, Lois Journean, Leah Adele Knisley, Jean Ludy, Ruth Ann McBride, Pauline Price, Irene Russell and Phyllis Shelton.

Flower Mission Day For W.C.T.U.

TUSTIN, June 6.—The regular meeting of the Tustin W. C. T. U. will be held at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon in the Presbyterian church parlor, with Mrs. Louise Satterwhite in charge of the program on "Flower Mission." Mrs. Martha A. Preble will make arrangements to be presented. The president, Mrs. Helen Finley, asks all members and friends to attend and bring bouquets with them, if possible, to be distributed after the meeting among the sick and shut-ins of the community.

350 AT COSTA MESA SERVICE SUNDAY NIGHT

COSTA MESA, June 6.—The baccalaureate service for the grammar school graduating class numbering 60, held at the Community church Sunday evening, was attended by 350 parents and friends. The Rev. A. F. Hixon spoke on "The Investment of Life."

Henry Abrams, district superintendent, sang "My Trust," accompanied by his daughter, Harriet, at the piano.

Harriet Abrams played a piano solo. The men's quartet gave a number. Members of the quartet are Ed Bennett, Les Belding, H. B. McMurtry and Earl Winterbourne.

Announcements were made of a Sunday school board meeting Tuesday evening and an all-day Women's Aid meeting for Thursday. Grammar school commencement exercises will be held Thursday night at the school auditorium.

Tustin Strategy Board to Convene On Friday Night

TUSTIN, June 6.—The Tustin prohibition board of strategy will hold a meeting at 7:30 o'clock Friday night in the parlor of the Presbyterian church. It was announced today by the temporary president, John W. Sauer.

The meeting is open to the public and everyone interested in maintaining the eighteenth amendment and the laws pertaining thereto, is urged to attend. Sauer stated.

It was announced that the Tustin auxiliary will prepare the 7 o'clock dinner which will be served June 10 to the Legion county council in the K. of P. hall. The auxiliary will also entertain the auxiliary county council at a 12:30 o'clock luncheon June 14 in the K. of P. hall. Mrs. Hazel Vigan, chairman of the ways and means committee, is in charge of arrangements.

"THE BRAINS OF THE COUNTRY"

"The brains of the country is riding on its freight trains," said an intellectual hobo to his companion as they alighted from the freight car on which they had been "bumming" a ride. It was quoted by one of our nationally prominent citizens recently in one of our newspapers.

This may not be generally or even literally true. Yet, it has a significance. There are many more trained men and women looking for jobs than we have known for many years. Soon the colleges and the technical schools are to send forth another group of men and women to battle with the world, and an astonishingly large number plunge into an exceedingly cold and an uninviting world.

Now, it would seem, as if it were a good time for the brains of the country to get together, and to think and plan their way out of this economic chaos. This chaos would never have been had brains been applied to the organization of society, or if the people not endowed with a great amount of brains had been willing to follow disinterested and really public spirited leaders. Everybody knows that the consuming power of the people has not increased with their productive power. Everybody who has followed the course of events knows that the depression of the last three years has been the result of mistakes easily corrected, and could be easily avoided, in the future, if men were moved by public rather than personal interests.

Why, then, not put the brains riding on freight trains to work, assuming they are riding there. Brains, like the Hessians of the American Revolution who fought against the forces of Washington, which are sold to the highest bidder, or which permitted to bloom like the flower of the desert, wasting its fragrance on the desert air, should be enlisted for the betterment of the world and the making of a happy humanity.

GOOD OFFICE-HOLDING MATERIAL

We notice by the press that Mrs. Rose B. Wallace of Alhambra is being considered as a candidate for the Republican nomination to the State Assembly. Mrs. Wallace is one of the type of women and individuals who are of inestimable value in public life. The district in which she lives would honor and do credit to itself, should they select her for such a position.

Causes, to her, are of more interest and value than is the game of politics. We learned by association with her, as she was chairman of the board of trustees of the California Institution for Women, that she was deeply interested in the welfare of men and women, and of society. She is a woman broad and big enough to recognize that institutions are made for the good of men and women, and that men and women do not exist for the institutions.

In season and out of season she has worked indefatigably for all progressive measures, in the interest of civic enterprises, such as the welfare of the unfortunate women who have come within the tolls of the law, violated society's decrees, and must be deprived of their liberty. She is a student of government and of civic affairs, has a wide acquaintance, is kindly but firm, has a background of education and training, and a woman of the highest culture.

We hope that she determines to become a candidate for the office. It will raise measurably the average standard of the ability and character of the members of that legislative body. Her district will know, if she is at Sacramento, that it is represented by a conscientious, capable and far-seeing woman. We hope that she may be a member of our next legislature.

COST OF PUBLISHING A BOOK

According to a writer in the Harvard Business Review for April, the publication of a book is not a very profitable venture, for the author at least, whatever it may mean to the publisher. According to this writer, after the cost of paper, and printing, and binding, and then the overhead of advertising, selling, and shipping, together with the small royalty paid to the author has been met, there is left about 25 cents on a $2 book for profit and amortization of plates. To make a $2 book pay its way, 3200 copies must be sold at the listed price.

With the large number of books being turned out from the press, such a sale is by no means the average. We hear of the great number of books that become best sellers; but we do not hear of the very much greater number that do not net the publisher or the author one cent. With the growth of book clubs and rental libraries, sales have been much cut down. The book of the month has a large circulation, but the profit goes largely to the book club management, rather than to the author or the publisher. Now that the people are becoming increasingly skeptical about the infallibility of editorial staffs of book clubs, these clubs have about reached their limit.

It is a well known fact that most of the great books have never paid for the cost of their printing, to say nothing of profit to the author. It has been said that Henry D. Thoreau, one of our best known writers, was ordered to send a truck to the storehouse of his publishers to remove the number of his unsold books. He used to say with a smile that he had the largest library of any man in the East, mostly made up of copies of his unsold books.

A few years ago four publishers started a movement to publish $1 books, much against the opposition of the other publishers. They felt that if books were sold cheaper, the people would buy more. But the movement failed, and they have been forced to go back to the $2 and the $2.50 book, which is the average price of an average sized book. In the meantime the $1 reprints of books for which there have been a large demand has been a profitable venture. These reprints are not made until one or two years after publication, depending upon the sale the first year.

The author of this article tabulates the cost of a single book as follows: This is for a $2 book. The wholesale price of the book is $1.12. Out of this, 26 cents goes for printing, binding, and paper; 20 cents for royalty. The remainder, all but 25 cents for profit and amortization, goes to overhead—editorial, selling, advertising, shipping. The plates cost about $800. This presupposes a sale of 3200 copies. The moral is that few authors get rich from writing books.

If you ever doubt that it's the same old United States with the world's greatest supply of raw material, just go to a vaudeville show.

THINNING MAGAZINES

In looking over the current magazines one is impressed by the changes that are taking place in magazine literature. In part, it may be due to the depression; but much more so it is due to changes in public sentiment and public opinion. Take as an example the Literary Digest. Once a rival in thickness and in advertising material to the Saturday Evening Post, it has become rather a modest weekly both as to number of pages and as to advertising. Just what effect the prohibition poll has had upon its circulation we do not know. But we do know that it has lost that weekly much support which it has hitherto had. However genuine the poll may have been, it certainly has been a questionable policy.

Even the Curtis publications are not so thick as they have been. The Ladies Home Journal and the Saturday Evening Post are not as thick as they once were. How much of that is due to the general conservative position on public affairs taken by those publications is also an open question. But there are many of the one-time friends of these publications who have not been in sympathy with the policy. The World's Work, which twenty years ago was one of our most popular magazines, has lost out in recent years. The same is true of Everybody's.

The magazines of controversy, such as the Forum and Harpers, have been increasing in popularity. In the list of important articles cited every month by the bulletin of the American Library Association, it is notable how many of the articles in Harpers and the Forum are listed. This would seem to indicate that the public is contemporaneously minded, that it is interested in the discussion of live topics in a broad or a controversial spirit.

It is not easy in these days of rapid change of thought and sentiment to hold the public long. It requires an extreme sensitiveness to public attitudes to be a successful magazine publisher in these days.

The Game's the Thing

Christian Science Monitor

Announcement of radical changes in Yale's athletic policies by President James R. Angell will no doubt come as a great surprise to many followers of intercollegiate sports; but to those who have been watching affairs at New Haven, there will be but little surprise, for it has been realized that with the changes which are to come in the educational system at Yale there must be athletic changes to match. In other words, with the opening of the college system, which corresponds to the house system that has been operating at Harvard during the last year, it is only natural that Yale's athletics should undergo changes, and those which are announced seem to meet the coming conditions in the same way that Harvard has met the changes incident to the house plan.

There are, however, three possible changes which are more drastic than any yet made by Harvard and they are not necessarily a part of the changes needed to provide for the colleges. They are a cutting of the Yale varsity football schedule to five games in 1932, a deferring of the opening of practice until college opens instead of starting it September 15, and free admission to contests for undergraduates. The other changes are along the lines of intercollegiate competition, abolishing of class competitions and providing amateur coaching for the teams.

It is quite evident that "athletics for all," with games played for the benefit of the undergraduates and the players themselves, is the aim of the Yale authorities. Lessened emphasis on the necessity for victory and on the development of championship teams at the expense of the undergraduates is seen. All of this will be welcomed. Just how the undergraduates—and the graduates—will react to some of the plans, particularly to a shortening of the varsity football schedule, or any other varsity schedule, will be interesting to watch. Yale, undoubtedly, has mapped out a plan of much promise and until it has been given a fair trial, it will be impossible to pass accurate judgment on its feasibility.

Congress Not the Only One Trying to "Strike a Balance"

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

A PUZZLE

R. Crusoe never lay awake
Upon his palm leaf bed
For fear the government might take
His last remaining red.
It was no trouble to relax
When R. C. hit the hay;
He hadn't any income tax
To pay.

He never laid the paper down
Disturbed and peeved and vexed.
And wondered with a furrowed frown
What Congress might do next.
It never filled him with a chill
To gaze at ruin's brink;
He didn't have a dollar bill
To shrink.

To those far distant, wave-washed shores
No news could ever reach
Of fence-repairing Senators
Who spent their days in speech.
No press dispatches did he read
To fill him with mistrust
Least, while they were debating, he'd Go bust.

He had his clothes, he had his home
And three square meals a day,
And although ringed about with foam
He had no rent to pay.
A life like that would soothe my mind
In this disturbing day;
I wonder why the fellow pined
Away.

TOO LATE

There might be more sense in the "soak the rich" cry if there remained any rich to soak.

ALWAYS GENEROUS

Once more Congress has voted to give the profits on beer to the bootleggers.

THE TEST

A lot of car owners are just discovering that their machines will last as long as the manufacturers said they would. They can't afford new ones.

PARAGRAPHS

By Robert Quillen

A pool in the market requires two things: Abundant capital, and a flock of simpletons to bet the other way. Americans believe in equality if it can be achieved by pulling the other fellow down to the common level.

Taxes aren't fair. Even if men are equally able to pay, one suffers a lot more than another.

The "organized minority" that has the most power is the one that picks the delegates to pick the man you vote for. But if a playwright steals the stuff that gives him a reputation, why didn't it make a reputation for the fellow he stole it from?

WHAT ABOUT A SERIES OF MAGAZINE ADS TO CONVINCE THE OFFENDER THAT HOARDING WILL MAKE HIM A SOCIAL FLOP?

So New York is to have a "sleeping marathon." Probably suggested by the remarkable record of Tammany's conscience. Everybody wishes to be a "big shot." His method depends on the standards of the crowd he happens to run with.

Well, if it's legal to stop the waste of oil, why not to stop the waste of fertility when crop prices are too low?

AMERICANISM: Demonstrating that publicity will put over anything; giving the people hard-times stories; wondering why they stay blue.

An educated man is one who can recognize the famous speech from which a candidate steals his stuff.

Decent citizens are those who would behave as they do now if there were no laws.

AN OPTIMIST IS A GO-GETTER WHO CAN LOOK AT THE OLD PEP MOTTOES ON HIS OFFICE WALLS AND NOT FEEL A PAIN IN THE NECK.

Why did that man Curtis go bankrupt when there are so many bridges, parks and public buildings to sell?

Now that it's no longer necessary to shoot Japs, the Chinese can go on with their home work.

The Government won't provide any more planes and boats for Mr. Curtis; but it still expects to collect from Europe.

You can say one thing for a crooner. He takes up radio time that might be used for a political speech.

CORRECT THIS SENTENCE: "AW, THERE'D BE JUST AS MUCH KILLING," SAID THE MAN, "IF PISTOLS WERE OUTLAWED."

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

TRIBUTE TO MOTHER

I had an experience the other evening that took me quite out of the day-to-day discussion of economic difficulties in which we are so deeply immersed throughout the nation.

I stood before hundreds of mothers of the students of the university as parent by proxy to their sons and daughters.

As I looked back over the years to three mothers of earlier and different days—my own mother, my mother's mother and my father's mother. Two of these it was not my privilege to know save as I read the record of their great sacrifice and good sense in the sweetness and strength alike of my father and of my mother. But I felt the ghostly and guiding presence of all three.

My own mother, Nancy Elizabeth Homb, linked her fortunes with my father's at the age of eighteen. In those simpler days, life was not, as now, so costly and so complex as to lead youth unduly to postpone marriage. This lovely creature who was my mother bore three sons. She was the mother of three before she was twenty-three. And the fourth, myself, was born when she was thirty-four.

She knew how to meet hardship with a high heart.

No sacrifice was great enough to blight the loveliness of her spirit or blunt the strength and sanity of mind she brought to our guidance.

A woman of rare devoutness.

she never preached to us.

Her judgments were surely arrived at and simply stated.

There was a priestly something about the way she led us through and beyond our youthful perplexities.

She was a psychoanalyst before the vogue of psychoanalysis. But she discharged her priestly ministry to us with an art that wholly concealed its art, although I am sure she was quite unaware of her artistry in motherhood.

She knew that youth was more than a vestibule to adulthood.

She made us feel that youth is as much a part of life as the older years.

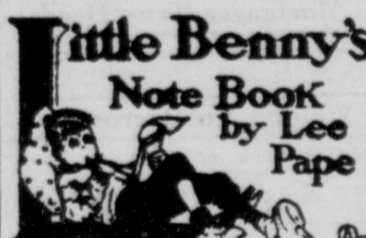

With my father she contrived to invest our home with a healthy normality.

And from the stories innumerable I was told of her mother, Pamela Ethell, of ante-bellum Missouri, and of my father's mother, Sally Barton, of ante-bellum Kentucky, I am sure that heredity had something to do with that healthy and normal home, the memory of which I would not trade for any other heritage, for this is a heritage that cannot be created or bestowed by any other institution than the home.

Neither church nor school can do other than build upon foundations laid in the home.

As this memory flashed across my mind, I knew what I should say to the hundreds of mothers before me.

This afternoon Sam Cross and Shorty Judge had a fierce argument and started to make fists at each other, us fellows saying, Soak him a shot, Sam, hit him a crack. Shorty, are you going to stand for that, Sam, show him he cant monkey around you, Shorty.

I'm not afraid of him, the pickle face hyena, or any funny looking gazinke like him, Sam Cross said, and Shorty Judge said, O is that so, well I dont pay any attention to a squash face hunk of soap like you, or any other dopey looking gazook, either.

Us fellows saying, Did you hear that, Sam, bang him one on the beizer, did you hear that, Shorty, show him whose boss with a slam in the snoot, you can lick him Sam, pile into him, Shorty, you can lick him easy as pie.

If he touches me I'll nock him through the middle of next week, the ignorant can opener, Sam Cross said.

Did you hear that, Shorty, make him back it up or down, go ahead and touch him and make him prove it, us fellows said, and Shorty said, Aw, that scroochy faced fried egg couldnt prove anything, just let him touch me first and I'll push his nose out the back of his head, the dum monkey ranch.

Are you going to stand for those insults, Sam, make him apologize, and Shorty Judge said, I will if you apologize to me first, you knock kneed parrit toed bunch of spinnitch.

All rite, I apologize, you bum looking middle of a stewed onion, Sam said, and Shorty said, Then so do I, you google eyed washed out grease spot.

And they shook hands with each other to prove they was still friends, and us fellows felt diskusted and got up a game of cops and robbers.

In the Long Ago

14 Years Ago Today.
From The Register Files

JUNE 6, 1918

Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Raugh left by automobile for San Francisco to be gone for two weeks, and planned to stop on their homeward way for a visit with Dr. Raugh's brother in Exeter.

Mrs. Walter N. Prince received a card from France announcing the arrival there of her brother, Murray Vandermast, who was identified with the headquarters company of the 39th Infantry, and was at Camp Mills, L. I. when his detachment was ordered overseas.

The first loganberries of the season were brought into the Santa Ana market by Frank Gibbs of Talbert.

Edward B. Covington Jr., son of Judge and Mrs. E. B. Covington, and a student at Pomona college, left for officers' training camp at the Presidio, Los Angeles, one of a large number of students from Pacific coast colleges to be accorded that honor.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Carden, Miss Helen Carden and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Carden were enjoying an automobile trip to the Yosemite.

MARINES GAIN

On June 6, 1918, American marines engaged in the sector northwest of Chateau Thierry, stormed the German front and gained two and a sixth miles on a two-and-a-half-mile front. The combined American and French troops also had a winning day, advancing two-thirds of a mile near Veully la Poterie.

The Bolshevik government, sorely tested by German pressure, offered to surrender the Russian Black Sea fleet to Germany on condition that the ships be returned to Russia after the war.

German subs accounted for the sinking of the British steamer Elaston, and the Koningen Regentes, a hospital ship, off the English coast.
